Six-year-old Gary Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Meyer, 502 West Sixth, found that Monday provided a perfect spring morning to sit out in his back yard and blow a few bubbles. Monday morning's nice weather was only a brief respite, however, and more rain is scheduled for the first part of the week.

Indian Disarmament Agreement Reached

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — The first phase of a disarmament agreement between the government and militant Indians was complete today as negotiators expressed optimism that the 69-day occupation of Wounded Knee will end this week.

Indian leaders turned over on Sunday night a list of weapons held by insurgents as well as the names of persons in the village. It was the first step in the disarmament agreement.

Marshals reported today there was quite a bit of activity along the village perimeter overnight with several persons arrested trying to slip past federal blockades.

Despite the optimism, spokesmen for both sides traded warnings about future takeovers and the way the government would react.

Negotiators announced on Sunday the signing of a disarmament pact that calls for weapons to be surrendered and nonresidents to leave the village at 9 a.m. EDT Wednesday.

That is to be followed by implementation of an April 5 agreement that calls for an investigation of civil rights complaints and an audit of Oglala Sioux tribal funds on the Pine Ridge Reservation. The earlier pact was to have ended the occupation of Wounded Knee but never was put into effect because of a dispute over laying down arms.

The confrontation began when American Indian Movement (AIM) forces took over the village Feb. 27 and has resulted in the deaths of two of the Indian occupiers.

AIM lawyer Ramon Roubideaux, a Sioux, said in a statement: "I think the government should realize that the type of governments on reservations is a failure. Something must be done to replace it."

"If not, there will be more Wounded Knees. These oppressed people are not going to live under these repressive governments."

AIM has contended that traditional chiefs and headmen, not the elected officials, should rule reservations.

Richard Hellstern, deputy assistant U.S. attorney general in charge of negotiations for the government, said the government has "learned many things" during the 10-week siege.

"I don't think the pattern of patience,

Review of Appeals Ruling Is Granted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today won Supreme Court review of a lower court decision sharply limiting the reach of federal law in prosecuting fraud in the $60 billion credit card industry.

The Justice Department asked the justices to overturn a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court at Cincinnati that cut back on the use of federal mail statutes in prosecuting credit card thieves.

The high court agreed without comment to hear the government's appeal of what it called a classic case of fraud of the kind that cost the industry some $100 million in 1969.

In most areas of the country, U.S. Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold told the court in his petition, federal judges have virtually assumed that use of the mails in the credit card process is an element of the crime since the culprit knows discovery of the use of a stolen credit card will be delayed until the fraudulent charge has been mailed to the credit card firm, or possibly to the rightful owner of the card.

But, the government continued, the Cincinnati circuit court has placed new demands on the prosecution under mail fraud laws that "severely limits the ability of federal criminal law to reach these fraudulent schemes."

The circuit court said the government must demonstrate that the defendant expressly "counted on the delays and vagaries of the postal system to facilitate execution of his scheme."

The appeals court reversed conviction on four mail fraud counts lodged against Thomas E. Maze who was accused of stealing a roommate's credit card in Louisville, Ky., in 1971 and using it to finance a cross-country jaunt.

In other actions today, the court: —Let stand a lower court decision protecting a reporter's confidential source in a civil rights suit aimed at discriminatory civil rights practices.

—Upheld the right of states to deny the vote to convicted felons, in a case from North Carolina.

Company Official Says Increased Exploration Answer to Shortage

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The prospects for overcoming the country's natural gas shortage lies in increased exploration of current gas reserves, an official of a Midwest natural gas supplier testified here today.

Richard W. Horner of the Mississippi River Transmission Co. said that, although readily available gas reserves are down to about 11 years of current production, studies indicate potentially available reserves are at least five times as much. But, he said, the cost of tapping these reserves will be great because they lie at substantial depths in both on-and-off-shore locations.

Horner said there is not enough energy currently available in this country to enable Americans to use as much as they have at the prices they have enjoyed.

Horner made the statements at a public hearing on the nation's energy crisis being held at the University of Missouri at St. Louis. The hearing, one of the first held outside Washington, D.C., was co-sponsored by Rep. James Symington, D-Mo., and Rep. Michael McCormack, D-Wash. Both Symington and McCormack are subcommittee chairmen of the House Science and Astronautics committee.

Horner, one of 11 witnesses scheduled to testify at the day-long hearing, said there are no prospects for coal gasification

Nixon Involvement Denied

Watergate Prosecutor Pledged by Richardson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elliot L. Richardson pledged Monday to name a special outside Watergate prosecutor and the White House issued a sweeping denial of any presidential involvement in the scandal or coverup.

Richardson said he'll make the appointment once he is confirmed as attorney general. He said he has not yet found the right person to head the probe.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., where President Nixon is winding up a long weekend, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said:

"Any suggestion that the President was aware of the Watergate operation is untrue. Any suggestion that the President participated in any coverup activities is untrue."

The statement came in the wake of reports in Time and Newsweek magazines that ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III is prepared to testify that Nixon personally congratulated him last September for covering up administration involvement in Watergate. The denial referred specifically to the Newsweek account.

Acknowledging worries over how the Watergate investigation would be pursued, Richardson said, "After much careful thought about how best to respond to these concerns, I have decided that I will, if confirmed, appoint a special prosecutor and give all the independence, authority, and staff support needed to carry out tasks entrusted to him."

With special emphasis, Richardson said the special prosecutor would report only to him as attorney general. This seemed to imply that President Nixon would have no direct hand in the investigation.

The nation's two largest news weeklies say ousted White House Counsel John W. Dean III is prepared to testify that Nixon personally congratulated him last September for covering up administration involvement in the Watergate incident.

Time and Newsweek gave slightly different accounts, but both said Nixon's purported remarks came in a meeting among the President, Dean and another top White House aide.

Richardson, currently the secretary of defense, was chosen by Nixon last Monday to become the new attorney general and take personal responsibility for the Watergate investigation.

"I would welcome, in addition, an expression by the Senate as a whole of its confidence in him," Richardson said.

There have been numerous calls in the Senate for someone of the caliber of a Supreme Court justice with no ties to the Nixon administration, to personally investigate the Watergate scandal.

"I have taken into account the fact that, because I have held office in this administration from its beginning, my objectivity may be questioned," Richardson told a Pentagon news conference.

Richardson appears before the Judiciary Committee on his nomination as attorney general on Wednesday. Because he has yet to be confirmed by the Senate for that job, Richardson declined to answer questions after reading a three-page statement.

Of the search for a special prosecutor, Richardson said, "It may take some time to find the right person." He made no estimate of how long that might be.

A number of prominent names have been mentioned as likely choices.

One is Lawrence E. Walsh, a deputy attorney general under President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He is a former U.S. District Court judge and a member of a New York law firm.

Another is Judge Irving R. Kaufman, in line to become chief judge of the U.S.

Court of Appeals for the 2nd Circuit. Persons close to the judge told the New York Times he had been approached but turned it down.

Kaufman is the judge who in the early 1950s sentenced Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, two convicted atom spies, to death.

Another is Judge J. Edward Lumbard Jr., soon to retire as chief judge of the U.S. Appeals Court 2nd Circuit.

Others mentioned are Herbert J. Stern, U.S. attorney for New Jersey and William T. Coleman, a lawyer in Philadelphia.

Judge Expected To Disclose Contents of Krogh Affidavit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Judge Matt Byrne is expected to disclose today the contents of an affidavit by former White House aide Egil Krogh in efforts to clarify reports linking the Pentagon papers trial to the Watergate affair.

Convicted Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt has said Krogh ordered a break-in at the office of the psychiatrist of Daniel Ellsberg, a defendant in the Pentagon papers trial in U.S. District Court here. Krogh is on leave from his job as undersecretary of transportation.

Further complicating the case, attorneys for defendants Ellsberg and Anthony Russo said they were working on a petition to be filed with the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeal, possibly today, to throw out the Pentagon papers indictment on grounds the judge was "compromised."

They have complained because a now-resigned presidential adviser, John D. Ehrlichman, recently discussed the possibility of Byrne's becoming FBI director.

And Judge Byrne, confronted by what he calls "crucial legal problems," still is considering declaring a mistrial or dismissal of charges.

But he has indicated that no amount of official wrongdoing would sway his considering the central legal issue: Was any illegal evidence used by the Justice Department in the prosecution of Ellsberg and Russo?

The two men have been charged with espionage, conspiracy and theft for copying the Pentagon's top secret study of the Vietnam war.

Pressing for a jury verdict, prosecutor David Nissen has said he will show that the Justice Department never used "tainted evidence." The defense attorneys insist this never could be known for sure.

Recent events complicating the trial came in this order:

—Thursday, April 26: Nissen submitted a secret memo to the judge. Byrne summoned defendants and attorneys to an emergency court session in which he sealed the memo in an envelope and gave the government until the next morning to discuss it.

—Friday, April 27: Byrne opened the envelope and made public information from the Watergate trial prosecutor revealing a tip that Watergate conspirators Hunt and G. Gordon Liddy broke into the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist to get the defendant's psychiatric records. The judge ordered an immediate government probe of the matter.

Further Demands Made by Kidnappers

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — The kidnappers of U.S. Consul-General Terrance G. Leonhardy were reported making more demands today following the transfer to Cuba of 30 prisoners whose freedom had been demanded in exchange for the American diplomat.

"The situation has become extremely complicated. There are new demands," said Gov. Alberto Orozco Romero of Jalisco state Sunday. "We just have to wait now. It could be hours or days...."

He did not say what the demands were. Shortly before, the governor received a note from Leonhardy saying he was being treated well and his kidnappers promised to release him "at the proper moment."

Leonhardy's wife, at home with the couple's two young daughters, received a telephone call from the kidnappers Sunday afternoon saying new instructions would be phoned later. The second call had not come by midnight.

Officials of the state and federal governments and of the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City waited with Mrs. Leonhardy. A special telephone line was installed at the house, apparently to keep the government in Mexico City in close touch.

Outside the house, nearly 100 newsmen, photographers, neighbors and onlookers waited through the night.

Thirty persons were released from jails in six Mexican states Sunday afternoon and flown to Havana in a Mexican air force plane, meeting the ransom demand of the guerrilla group that seized the 58-year-old consul-general Friday evening as he drove home alone.

Most of those released were young people accused of bombings, bank robberies, shootings and subversion. Some had been held since 1971 without trial.

The kidnappers, a revolutionary guerrilla group called the Armed Revolutionary Forces of the People, also demanded nationwide publicity for all communiques they issued. In a statement Saturday night, the kidnappers complained because not all the newspapers in Mexico City published the communiques on the front page.

Israel Celebrates 25th Birthday

JERUSALEM (AP) — More than 400 warplanes roared across the land of the Bible today as Israel celebrated its 25th anniversary with prayers and a three-hour display of the mightiest array of military hardware ever seen at one time in the Middle East.

Some 300,000 cheering spectators jammed the decorated streets of Arab and Jewish Jerusalem for the parade. But the birthday was more festive than warlike despite the biggest armed display in the Middle East since the 1967 War.

Troops and police guarded the parade route against guerrilla sabotage and reserve troops were mobilized for security. But there were no disruptions.

Prayers for peace were held in synagogues before 2,000 troops and more than 160 tanks and artillery guns moved past Premier Golda Meir, government and military leaders and David Ben-Gurion, the 86-year-old founding father of Israel.

Led by five jets spewing blue and white smoke and helicopters towing flags, the Israeli air force provided a roaring umbrella for the festivities. Israeli-built jets spelled out the Hebrew letters for 25 years, 108 American Skyhawk bombers and 80 Phantoms shrieked behind and 24 French Mirages recalled the spearhead of the 1967 War.

Hundreds more planes — old Strato cruiser and Dakota transports, flimsy Piper Cubs, paratroop carriers, helicopters, sleek super Mysteres and 10 trios of Phantoms with glowing afterburners — flew the length and breadth of Israel, taking the message of warning to the Jewish nation's Arab neighbors from the Red Sea desert to the Lebanese border and the ceasefire line with Syria.

The parade was the object of much criticism, at home as well as abroad. The United Nations asked that it be cancelled because part of its route lay through Arab East Jerusalem, recaptured from Jordan in the 1967 war, and that would anger the Arab nations. Many Israelis contended that the $4.7 million being spent on the parade should be used for social welfare.

standing of the nature of energy itself. Symington, noting a rather slim turnout at the beginning of the public hearing, said "Perhaps a few more people will have to go without the energy they are used to" before responding to the current energy crisis.

Both Symington and McCormack said the information they receive during the hearing will be combined with information gathered in a series of hearings scheduled for later in the spring and used in forming any recommendations to meet the energy crisis.

McCormack said the possibility of more hearings outside Washington does exist.

Ann Landers

Simple Solution To A Scratchy Problem

Dear Ann Landers: So you think you have had every problem under the sun? I'll bet you will be surprised to find a brand new one today.

My husband has long toenails. They are very sharp and I have awakened with scratched ankles more often than I care to remember.

Last night he really stabbed me. I actually yelled. It was 3:00 a.m. The dog began to bark. I told him I had had it with his toenails and that I am buying twin beds. He promised to trim his toenails but he has done this before and they grow like crazy.

Please, Ann, give me some advice. — Love Him But He's Dangerous

Dear Love: Tell King Kong to sleep with his socks on. Simple, wasn't it?

Dear Ann Landers: Recently I read something in the paper that disgusted and shocked me. I am appalled by the selfishness of people, their lack of consideration for elderly friends, neighbors and relatives. This week I read where two very old women (one in Ohio, the other in Illinois) were found dead in their homes, frozen. They had died of starvation and exposure. No one ever thought to look in on these people. When their bodies were discovered by neighbors, they had been dead two months.

Is it asking too much to phone an elderly aunt or great-grandmother or cousin, or even a friend once or twice a week to see if they are sick and need something? And what a treat it would be for these lovely folks if someone came by and took them for a ride, or out for a meal. I do hope that every person who reads this will think of someone who has been forgotten for a long while. Give him or her a call. It would be a wonderful surprise. — I Loved My Parents

Dear L.L.: Yes, it would — and I can promise you that your letter will send many people to the telephone today. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: I work in a small office and my boss smokes constantly. I've seen him go from a pipe to a cigar to a cigarette within one hour. I have a heart condition and sometimes I actually gasp for breath.

My doctor gave me an article from the Journal of the American Medical Association and suggested I hand it to my boss. I don't have the nerve, but I know my boss reads your column every day. Will you give me a hand? Here's what the article said:

"Dr. Donald A. Dukelow of the AMA's Department of Education was asked if there is evidence to support recent claims that a non-smoker with all-day exposure to a smoke-filled room inhales as much smoke as though he himself had smoked a pack of cigarettes. Dr. Dukelow said, 'Positively.' He went on to cite several studies and reported that cigarette smoking in a closed room soon makes the concentration of nicotine and dust particles so high that the non-smoker inhales as much harmful tobacco by-products as one who has smoked several cigarettes."

Another study showed that smokers' children are ill more frequently than non-smokers' children — usually with respiratory ailments. This last point just might get to smokers who don't care about themselves but do care about their kids. Thanks, Ann. — Cumberland, Maryland letters from children who ask me how to get Mom or Dad (or both) to quit smoking. I hope these children will hand this column to their parents and say, "If you won't quit for yourself, will you please quit for me?"

Dear Cum: Not a day goes by that I don't get a half dozen

Traffic Accidents Claim Nine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 11 persons were killed in Missouri traffic accidents over the weekend.

Killed Sunday were: Susan Jones, 15, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Jones, Kansas City, Mo., when the dune buggy in which she was riding left a Kansas City street and struck a light pole.

Frank Lee Edwards Talton, 23, Monroe City, Mo., when the car in which he was riding struck a bridge on a Marion County road east of Hunnewell.

Helen Teague, 16, Nevada, Mo., when the pick-up truck in which she was riding collided with a car on U.S. 54 a mile east of El Dorado Springs.

Killed Saturday: Lorilyn Ann Greenley, 17, Rock Port, when the motorcycle on which she was riding crashed into the rear of a car on Missouri 111 in Rock Port.

Morris Freeland, 35, Ste. Genevieve, Mo., when his car collided head-on with another on U.S. 67 near Bonne Terre.

James Withrow, 13, and Kathy Stewart, 18, both of Kirksville, when the car in which they were riding collided with a tractor-trailer truck at U.S. 63 and Missouri 11 a mile south of Kirksville.

Thomas Resimus, 13, Dixon, when he was struck by a car on a county road a half mile west of Dixon.

Arthur Lindhorst, 19, Jennings, Mo., was killed when the car he was driving went out of control and overturned on Interstate 270 near Berkeley.

Paul Wayne Kenney, 18, El Dorado Springs, Mo., in a one-car mishap on Missouri 39 about four miles north of Stockton; and

George Dewey Mayden, 68, Branson, Mo., when the car in which he was riding ran off Missouri 86 four miles east of Forsythe.

Old records show that a form of ice skating was a popular pastime in England as early as 1015.

Bush Wants Nixon Funds Spent on GOP Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican party chairman George Bush says he wants to see President Nixon's re-election campaign dismantled and its money spent on helping GOP congressional candidates next year.

"These moneys were given to support the President," said Bush in an interview. "The best way to support him would be to gain control of one or another house of Congress."

His comments came after party officials said they feared a Wednesday fundraiser for the '74 election would meet only half of a $2 million goal.

He said he did not know the legalities of closing down the Committee to Re-elect the President, which is involved in lawsuits arising from the Watergate case.

Like his predecessor, Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, Bush has been trying unsuccessfully to obtain for the party funds left over from the Nixon re-election campaign.

Bush said future Republican fundraising efforts will be centralized under the new party treasurer, Nashville investment banker Pat Wilson, who reports directly to Bush.

GOP fundraising efforts in 1972 were completely outside the Republican National Committee and were headed by Maurice Stans, treasurer of the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

Probe Into Future Needed

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Because they must plan their investments years ahead if they are to guarantee policy payments years ahead, life insurance companies are forced to look deeper into the future than some other companies.

One of them, Metropolitan Life, has just issued a forecast of the economy not just for next year but for the next five years, right through 1977. They foresee more good news than bad. But they also see what you probably knew they would.

Inflation, that is, may average about 3.5 per cent a year, once considered an unacceptable rate, although lower than the 4.5 per cent average of 1967-1972.

Unemployment is expected to remain near 5 per cent, which is still considered unacceptable, although the number of jobs will rise sharply. The percentage will remain relatively high because there will be more job seekers.

Regarding that other enemy of the pocketbook, taxes, the forecasters noted:

"Unlike some previous periods, any tax cuts will probably be negligible because of pressures for public expenditures in such areas as waste disposal, public transportation, urban redevelopment and income maintenance."

If you learn to overcome these problems, the forecasters suggest you might look forward to unprecedented prosperity, with increases in real income permitting greater expenditures for automobiles and homes and leisure.

The projections on incomes are likely to surprise even those Americans who, during the 1960s, adjusted to steadily higher living standards. More adjustments are in store, because:

—The proportion of family units earnings less than $10,000, which shrunk from 66 per cent in 1967 to 43 per cent in 1972, is foreseen falling to only 26 per cent by 1977.

—The proportion of families earning incomes of more than $15,000, which rose from 12 per cent in 1967 to 29 per cent by 1972, will climb to nearly 50 per cent, or 29 million families, by 1977.

—Per capita income, which was $3,800 last year, is expected to rise to $5,250 in 1977. And family income before taxes, which averaged $9,000 in 1967 and $12,400 in 1972, is foreseen rising to nearly $17,000.

The disturbing element in these projections is that the figures, like so many of those used by government and industry, include inflation as if it were something gained rather than lost. It is added in when it should be subtracted out.

Still, the Met forecasters estimate that purchasing power should rise. Before deducting for taxes, they say, incomes will be higher by about 8 per cent a year. Subtract the 3.5 per cent inflation, therefore, and you will have a better idea of real increases in buying power.

Heart Attacks Kill One in Four

Dear Dr. Lamb — It was with a great deal of interest and appreciation that I and my deceased husband read your columns concerning fatty deposits in the arteries and low fat diets. He had hardening of the arteries and his legs had to be operated on. The results were wonderful and the specialist told my husband his health was very good. Five months later, he had a massive heart attack. Several days later he died. To me, he was still young, only in his early 50s, and had never had any chest pains. He had had several electrocardiograms while in the hospital for the leg operations, and nothing every showed up.

His death certificate had cardiac arrest and myocardial infarction as the cause of his passing away.

After suffering the attack, and during the few days he was in the hospital, he was so alert and normal except for being weak. I was with him a few minutes before he died. At that time he was so restless, he could not lie still. He twisted and turned constantly, all the while talking to me, then he complained of a huge knot in his chest and fell backwards and his lips turned into his mouth as though something was pulling on them. I had to leave the room then and later was told he had died.

For me and my children, could you explain what all of these medical terms and the restlessness means. We will be so thankful if you will.

Dear Reader — It is always a sorrowing to lose someone close to you. Although your story is a personal one, one out of four of all the deaths in the United States are caused by heart attacks.

Atherosclerosis often affects many arteries in the body. This is why even successful heart transplants and artificial hearts would often be of limited value.

The atherosclerotic process in the legs is the same process which caused the heart attack and can also cause strokes. Without proper circulation he had difficulties with the muscles in his leg. The atherosclerotic blockage of the coronary arteries interferes with the circulation to the heart muscle in the same manner. Often the first symptom or sign is sudden death.

The electrocardiogram (ECG) is frequently normal before the heart attack occurs. Atherosclerosis is in the arteries to the heart. It won't affect the heart muscle or its electrical activity (ECG) until it becomes sufficiently advanced to block the circulation to part of the heart muscle. Then there will usually be changes in the ECG.

The fatty deposits in the arteries to the heart muscle build up or a clot forms and blocks the opening. The area of heart muscle (myocardium) depending on circulation through this artery, dies. This is called an infarction, hence the term myocardial infarction.

Cardiac arrest is a general term used when the heart stops beating entirely, or when it fibrillates or twitches (ventricular fibrillation) at a rapid rate with no normal rhythmic pumping action. In either case effective circulation stops immediately. Thus, what your husband had was sudden death from stopping of the heart's pumping action associated with damage to his heart's muscle, both caused by the disease in the arteries.

Music Week Begins

The local observance of National Music Week got underway Sunday afternoon at First Christian Church with a concert performance planned by members of the Helen G. Steele Music Club. Mrs. Donald Barnes, chorus director; Mrs. A. J. Harlan, Mrs. Eugene Logan and Mrs. Stanley Fisher, president.

Chaired by Mrs. Paulette Schwartz with Mrs. David Turner, Mrs. Otis Thomas and Mrs. Clark Baker assisting, the National Music Week committee has arranged music programs for organizations and encouraged groups to include talent within their own organizations.

National Music Week's Golden Anniversary has been proclaimed to run from Sunday through next Sunday by Mayor Jerry N. Jones and activities planned include singing at local nursing homes, performing at the Elks Club Mother's Day Banquet, as well as for Kiwanis, storybook hours at the local libraries, Cosmopolitan Junior Women's Club, Pettis County Democratic Women's Club, Retired Teachers Association, Christian Business and Professional Women's Club and Rho Tau Mother-Daughter Luncheon at Westmoreland Country Club.

Local musicians, who will be performing for groups include Mrs. Jack Herndon and Mrs. Robert Seelen, singers; David Turner and Bill Long, a guitar and song group; Steve Madorin, guitarist and singer; The New Score Singers from Smith-Cotton High School under the direction of Tom Trout; Mrs. Stanley Fisher, Mrs. Chester Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Bill McLaughlin, a ladies trio of sacred music.

Shaw Music Company is sponsoring a poster contest in honor of Music Week and many area merchants are displaying the posters.

"The combined efforts of the entire community including schools, churches, social and civic clubs, as well as commercial organizations will be keeping the theme alive by 'Focusing the Spotlight on Music,'" Mrs. Schwartz said.

Polly's Pointers

How To Eliminate Polyester Wrinkles

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I, too, put my husband's polyester knit pants in an overheated dryer and had them come out full of wrinkles. I took them to the cleaners, had them pressed and stretched to the original length (they had drawn up, too) and they came home looking like new again. These pants have been washed since then and I let them drip dry and they are still permanently pressed. — R. G.

DEAR POLLY — I suggest that Mrs. W. H. iron the wrinkled polyester pants with a press cloth wrung out of white vinegar. (Test first) Press until dry, re-wet the cloth and move on to another area. This will set a nice crease in knit trousers you sew yourself. The vinegar smell will leave after a bit of airing. — SHARI

DEAR GIRLS — To prevent such a problem in the future avoid drying permanent press clothes in an overloaded dryer. If the load is small, balance with some clean towels for proper tumbling. When dry remove immediately. Clothes left in the dryer when the tumbling ceases acquire new wrinkles. Hang immediately, and if touchup pressing is needed, use a steam iron on the proper setting for the fabric and often this pressing will last through several washings. Some new dryers have special cycles for such clothes. If you do not have a dryer, remove from the washer before the spin cycle and hang on a plastic hanger to drip-dry — never wring. If a garment is wrinkled when bought, it is going to be more difficult to remedy so inspect carefully before buying. — POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — Several inches of water flow through a deep gully that runs in front of our house and on our property. The only solution we can think of is to lay pipe and then cover with soil but this would cost $500 or more. Help! Does anyone have a cheap solution? This is most important to us. It would add a good 5 feet of frontage to our yard and, more importantly, this gully is unsafe for our children. — S. B. P.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with the fashion magazines that publish photographs of different hair styles but never seem to think that women who wear glasses would like to see some styles that fit the type glasses they must wear. — MARGARET

Own a Cadillac? Of course you can!

Right now, you could be very, very close to the special pleasures of Cadillac ownership.

Because right now there exists a very special set of circumstances favoring the person who longs to be a Cadillac owner.

It begins with the beautiful new 1973 Cadillacs themselves. These cars are the finest ever built by Cadillac—reflected by the fact that the '73 Sedan deVille, shown above, has already established itself as the single most popular luxury car in automotive history.

There are nine great '73 Cadillacs from which to choose. And right now, your Cadillac dealer can probably supply just the model you want... just the way you want it!

If a new Cadillac is not yet in your plans, consider the pleasure of driving a Cadillac of another year. The great demand for new Cadillacs has made a number of beautiful previously-owned cars available. Like the 1971 Eldorado or 1969 Coupe deVille, shown above.

It's true. A Cadillac of any recent year will likely have more luxury, more convenience features, more power equipment than you'll find on many of today's new cars.

For a lot of reasons, there couldn't be a better time to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer than right now.

First choose Cadillac...then choose the year.

DEATH NOTICES

Mrs. Nonie P. Gage

Mrs. Nonie P. Gage, 62, 410 North Brown, died at the University of Missouri Medical Center, Columbia, at 5:15 p.m. Saturday. She had been in failing health for several years and had been a patient at the hospital since Wednesday.

The body is at the Heckart-Gillespie Funeral Home.

Guerrillas To Appear In Court

DUBLIN (AP) — A search for guerrillas who blew up three British soldiers just across the border in Northern Ireland netted four men Sunday, and they were scheduled to appear in a Dublin court today.

The identities of the four were not announced prior to their court appearance, and it was not known if they had been linked to the killing of the soldiers. All four were believed to be members of the Irish Republican Army, and one of them was believed to have escaped from jail in Northern Ireland, where he was serving a sentence on an arms charge.

The four men were arrested in Dundalk, just over the border from Crossmaglen. It was there that two explosions killed the soldiers Saturday and injured several others as patrols checked wires leading across the border 500 yards away. It was believed that the explosions were set off from the Irish Republic.

Selection of Firm Expected Tonight

The selection of a firm to construct the Alpha Sintered Metals, Inc. manufacturing building is expected to highlight city council activity at their first May meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the council's city hall chambers.

At a special council meeting April 30, the council received a bid of $84,138 from the Dean Construction Co., 501 East Second, and a bid of $91,516 from the Tempel-Callison Co., 1806 West 11th.

Stable, Receding Waters Predicted

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The flooding Mississippi River north of here will continue to recede, but from St. Louis to Cairo, Ill., it will remain "stable" for the next few days, the river district office of the National Weather Service predicted Sunday night.

The river here, where flood stage is 30 feet, fell one-tenth of a foot Sunday to 36.9

Ozarks Talks Scheduled To Resume

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Officials of Ozark Air Lines and negotiators of the striking Aircraft Mechanics Fraternal Association were to go back to the bargaining table today in an effort to end the 18-day-old strike which has grounded Ozark's jets.

Issues other than wages were holding up a back-to-work agreement following the announcement of a tentative settlement Friday night. Weekend negotiations were unproductive.

The 560-member union, which represents mechanics and technicians who maintain the airline's planes, struck April 19 in demands for higher wages. Ozark serves 62 cities in 15 states.

A union spokesman said other issues, including an AMFA demand that television surveillance equipment be removed from work areas, were holding up final agreement.

Any agreement must be presented to the full membership for approval before the workers return to their jobs.

Other than the union members, 1,800 company employees have been idled by the strike, the second in Ozark's history.

The union was seeking 15-cent and 30-cent hourly premiums for mechanics with airframe and powerplant licenses in addition to a $6.82 hourly wage. The mechanics were paid $6.02 hourly under the old contract.

The company had offered $6.80 but resisted the demands for the hourly premium.

The last strike against Ozark was also conducted by the AMFA. It lasted seven days.

Judge

—Sunday, April 29: Defense lawyers announced that Ellsberg's psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis Fielding, confirmed his office was burglarized on Sept. 3, 1971.

—Monday, April 30: Byrne announced he met with Ehrlichman early in April at the Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., to talk about a government job. The defense demanded the trial be stopped and a hearing held with all Watergate principals testifying under oath.

—Tuesday, May 1: The judge made public an FBI interview with Ehrlichman, who said he knew Hunt and Liddy had burglarized the doctor's office and told them "not to do this again." Ehrlichman said the two had been hired for a special investigation of the Pentagon papers leak to the press, desired by President Nixon. He said the investigation was handled out of the office of two White House aides—Krogh and David Young. The defense moved for dismissal.

—Wednesday, May 2: The judge, defending himself against defense accusations that the government had tried to "bribe" him, gave more details of his meetings with Ehrlichman and brief introductions to Nixon and foreign policy adviser Henry A. Kissinger. He said that the Pentagon papers trial was not discussed and that he refused to consider the post of FBI director until the trial was completed.

—Thursday, May 3: Byrne demanded that Hunt's grand jury testimony be released to him. The chief judge in the Watergate case, John Sirica, complied. Meanwhile, the Watergate prosecutor, Earl J. Silbert, refused to tell Byrne the name of the source that tipped him to the Liddy-Hunt involvement.

—Friday, May 4: The judge received Hunt's testimony and released the 30-page transcript with details of a scheme to get Ellsberg's psychiatric records. Hunt outlined how he and Liddy—with the aid of another Watergate conspirator, Bernard Barker, and two Cuban nationals—carried out the break-in. He said the job was ordered by Krogh and was known by Young. Hunt said the intruders couldn't find Ellsberg's records.

Also Friday, defense attorneys refused to question witnesses or voice objections while the possible "taint" of Watergate clouded the trial. They again moved for dismissal, specifically citing the judge's meeting with Ehrlichman. Byrne refused. "I am convinced beyond any doubt that nothing occurred to compromise my ability to act as a completely fair and impartial judge in this case," he said.

feet but would remain at that level Monday and Tuesday, the weather service said. It would fall to 36.2 by Wednesday.

The slow recession was caused by minor secondary crests at points north of St. Louis late last week. The river was receding upstream and at Davenport, Iowa, the Mississippi was below flood stage Sunday.

A light rain was falling over much of Missouri Sunday night and "if we get one to two inches, the rivers could go up again," a forecaster said. "We still have a lot of water to evacuate."

The flood situation "is no longer serious" but it "needs to be watched," Lammert Buchhold of the Corps of Engineers said.

Commercial barge traffic was still banned from the Mississippi, Missouri and Illinois rivers because of damaged locks and the fear of wave-wash damage to flooded homes.

"We can't pinpoint any date of reopening the locks," Buchhold said. "Normally the locks would be reopened at a set stage, but since they were overtopped by floodwaters, there will have to be some cleanup and replacement of motors," he said.

Electric motors were removed from the locks when the rivers began to rise. They are used to open and close flood gates.

More than 10,000 families have applied for some kind of disaster assistance, said Francis X. Tobin, regional director of the federal Office of Emergency Preparedness.

More than 1,500 Missouri families have applied for temporary housing and 5,037 have sought low-interest disaster assistance loans from the Small Business Administration, he said.

Damage in Missouri and Illinois has been estimated at about $156 million by the corps.

Watergate

Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry E. Petersen, said his decision to name a special prosecutor should not reflect on the Justice Department, the FBI or any United States attorney. Petersen has been directing the Watergate investigation from within the Justice Department.

Some senators had indicated they might delay acting on Richardson's nomination as attorney general, pending firm word that a special prosecutor would be named.

His announcement today is expected to clear away the potential for any resistance to his replacing Richard G. Kleindienst, who resigned as Justice Department chief.

Newsweek quoted Dean as saying Nixon was in the Oval Office with Dean and White House chief of staff H.R. "Bob" Haldeman when the President said: "Good job, John. Bob told me what a great job you've been doing."

Time's version said Nixon, Dean and the President's domestic-affairs adviser, John D. Ehrlichman, were present and that Nixon said: "John here tells me you've been doing fine work."

Neither magazine, in announcing the stories would be forthcoming, identified its source.

However, one legal source who has been close to the Watergate case, said the "tidbits" Dean reportedly gave government investigators were used as bait in an effort to win the 34-year-old lawyer immunity from prosecution. Dean has told them he has other evidence, including White House documents, to substantiate his claims, the source said.

The documents presumably are the 43-page volume and eight supporting papers that Dean's lawyer described Friday in U.S. District Court here. Dean gave the keys to a safe-deposit box to Chief Judge John J. Sirica, saying the box contains the classified documents taken from the White House to prevent their being destroyed.

The source said the government has refused to grant Dean immunity in exchange for his testimony.

Another observer said Dean, fired by Nixon a week ago, still may waive his right to the constitutional protection against self-incrimination even if he fails to win immunity.

"If he goes before the (Senate Watergate) committee and creates a tremendous sensation by implicating everybody in the White House on national television," the lawyer said, "he'll be able to claim he could never get a fair trial because of all the pretrial publicity."

In other weekend developments in the Watergate scandal:

—Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., announced she will cosponsor a resolution seeking a House inquiry on whether grounds exist for impeaching the President. Sen. James L. Buckley, R-Con.N.Y., said it would be outrageous to start impeachment proceedings in the absence of all the facts in the Watergate affair.

—Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said his wife's reported suggestion that Nixon resign "is ridiculous." The Committee for the Re-election of the President issued a statement by Mitchell saying United Press International, which carried the suggestion in a story, took advantage of a personal telephone call from Mrs. Mitchell to a UPI reporter.

Two Are Injured In Car Accident

A two-car collision at 10:58 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of 32nd and Limit resulted in injuries to two Sedalia youths.

According to police, the accident occurred when a car driven south on Limit by Duane Cox, 17, 917 East 24th, attempted to make a left turn and collided with a northbound vehicle driven by Gloria Kindee, 19, 2522 North Woodlawn.

Treated and released at Bothwell Hospital were Cox and a passenger in the Kindee car, Stephanie Nichols, 2519 Wing Ave. Cox suffered cuts on the head and complained of a sore neck and Miss Nichols suffered a gash on the left ear.

Cox was issued a summons for failure to yield to oncoming traffic, according to police.

Faulty Sign Wiring Causes $50 Blaze

A fire at Bozarth's Men's Wear store, 222 South Ohio, at 12:54 p.m. Sunday resulted in $50 in damage, according to Sedalia Fire Department records.

The blaze resulted from a short circuit in the wiring of a neon sign at the store, the report stated.

negotiation and renegotiation necessarily would be the same if there were another Wounded Knee," he said. "Persons contemplating another Wounded Knee might anticipate a different action on the part of the government."

Under the agreement, Indians will evacuate their bunkers and turn over their weapons to Community Relations Service personnel of the Justice Department. Legal weapons will be returned to their owners, but all other guns will be seized.

Persons with arrest warrants outstanding against them will be taken to Rapid City for arraignments. Nonresidents of the village will be permitted to arrange transportation from the reservation.

After a search is made by marshals for explosives and other devices in the village, permanent residents will be escorted back home.

Roubideaux said Dennis Banks and Carter Camp, AIM leaders in the village, did not sign the agreement. He said, however, that Banks told him in a letter AIM would honor the disarmament.

"AIM's job is done here," the letter said.

Valuable Coins Reported Stolen

Harry Lantz, Locust Grove, Okla., reported to police at 5:50 p.m. Sunday the theft of a 1958 coin proof set, a 1959 proof set and a quantity of Liberty half-dollars valued at between $50 and $75.

The theft occurred during a coin show held over the weekend at Liberty Park.

Following an investigation, police apprehended and later arrested four juvenile suspects in the case. However, Lantz declined to press charges against the youths.

Police recovered $41 in half-dollars but have not yet recovered the stolen coin proof sets.

Swimming Major Item for Park Board Discussion

The possibility of holding adult swimming lessons and family swimming nights on a year-round basis at the Junior High School swimming pool will be explored at the monthly meeting of the Sedalia Park Board at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Convention Hall.

The proposal, which has been approved by the Sedalia School Board, calls for adult lessons to be held on Tuesday nights, with family nights on Thursday nights.

In other business, a swimming pool manager and two assistants, who will supervise the city's three municipal swimming pools this summer, are also expected to be hired tonight, according to board vice president Ben Pummill. In addition, time permitting, applications for lifeguards will also be reviewed tonight, Pummill said.

The board will also finalize the summer schedules of the city's slow pitch and fast pitch softball teams, Junior and Senior Babe Ruth teams, Ban Johnson team and semi-pro team, Pummill added.

Fixed and Variable Costs Also Apply to Cattle Rancher

By GALEN HUBBS
Goodland Daily News
For The Associated Press
GOODLAND, Kan. (AP)—In the production of any consumer goods, there are fixed costs and variable costs and the same hold true for a rancher with a cow-calf operation.

Weather has a tremendous influence on the cattle industry. The winter of 1972-73 could go down in history as one of the most severe of this century, with hundreds of thousands of livestock dying.

"Our trouble started Oct. 29, 1972, when the first bad snowstorm came," said Dick Hays, a cow-calf producer near here. "Our cows were about 75 per cent finished calving. The first couple of storms weren't too bad. Then came a long, snowy winter and that put a great deal of stress on the calves. Our calves stayed under this stress until early April. Thirty per cent of our fall calf crop died."

The Weather Service Office at Goodland, recorded in excess of 68 inches of snow for the winter. "This is a record for total snowfall for a winter season here," said Warren O. Eckert, official-in-charge of the WSO. "The winter of 1971-72 produced only 17 inches," he said. During April of this year, 7.2 inches of snow fell in the Goodland area.

At one time this past winter, more than 2,000 head of dead cattle were collected in this vicinity and piled west of Goodland awaiting a break in the weather so they could be transported to rendering plants. Today, many rendering plants still are bogged down with dead cattle to be processed. Ranchers must now bury their dead cattle — which results in additional expense.

Greater death losses could have occurred had not Hays, and his ranching peers across the livestock belt, used every protective measure available to them.

We gave our calves vitamin shots, pneumonia shots, plus every damn shot and thing you could think of," Hays said. "Believe it or not but most of our calves died of ulcers. Ulcers!" Hays added that if that wasn't enough, the calves got scours, a form of dysentery in cattle, from the damp and cold. Hays and his son, Pete, run 480-head of cows on irrigated pasture. Eventually, they hope to have 800. Their figures show that each calf at birth costs them $117 — and this doesn't include the value of the calf, labor expenses and the other variables involved, such as a return on their land, machinery, labor, etc.

"Each cow eats five cents worth of protein a day, one penny's worth of mineral, 15 cents worth of roughage, and two cents a day can be added for taxes on an animal," said the younger Hays. "This makes the cost of keeping the cow $91 per year. Then you have to add another $4 per year for vaccinations and $22 to artificially inseminate a cow so you can get a calf. This brings the cost of a calf at birth to $117."

In their irrigated pasture program, the father-son operation has three circles of grass. An irrigation well, costing about $10,000, is drilled near the center of a quarter section (160 acres). A self-propelled irrigation sprinkling system, costing approximately $17,000 travels around in a circle and waters about 100 acres under it. The corners are also planted to grass and natural precipitation provides moisture. This grass isn't overly productive.

"Seeding costs for each acre of irrigated pasture developed is $32. We spent an additional $25 per acre this year for fertilizer to sustain growth," the elder Hays volunteered. "By using irrigated pasture, we can run five cows and calves on two acres of grass. Our goal is to produce 1,500 pounds of beef per acre of grass. We also feed free choice about five pounds of silage per cow per day. While the calves are on irrigated pasture supplemental feeding costs an additional 12 cents per calf per day."

Six months of the year, cows and calves are kept on the irrigated pasture. During the remaining six months, they are pastured on corn and stalks, and fed corn silage.

"We intend to plant 915 acres of corn to be used in our cattle operation," Hays said. "Last year we cut one circle of grass for hay and that hay was fed this winter." All of these farming operations must be figured into the final price the cattleman receives for his calves.

"Calves are weaned at 205 days and weigh about 600 pounds. We then sell the calves as feeder cattle, as replacement bulls and heifers or 4-H club calves. Some we keep as replacements in our own herd. A good cow will cost you $500 at the sale barn," said rancher Hays.

Hays disposes of most of his calves through auction markets. Other ranchers may sell outright to feedlot operators, or contract with a feedlot to fatten the calves to slaughter grade and weight, then sell directly to a processor.

A native Nebraskan, Hays moved with his family to the Goodland area about four years ago. "We bought 440-pound heifers from New Mexico and raised them for our breeding stock. These cows are now coming with their second calf crop," he said.

The Hereford cows are artificially inseminated with Semmental semen. This produces a larger calf at birth with certain gaining characteristics favored by cattle feeders.

Why use artificial insemination? Economics. It is not uncommon for a sire with outstanding beef characteristics to sell for $10,000 and upwards. A rancher needs one bull for every 20 or 25 cows, and most bulls can be used only four or five years for breeding. Many ranchers, especially those who keep cattle in confined areas, such as irrigated pasture operations, feel artificial insemination is less expensive and less trouble than having bulls.

To the south of Goodland is a large expanse of rangeland. In Northwest Kansas it requires between 10 and 15 acres of short grass, or pasture, to sustain a cow and a calf, and this, too, depends on the moisture received and how much grass is available. Here again, ranchers must supplement the cow and calf with silage and protein during the winter months.

Normally, cattle can tolerate in pastures until about the first of the year. Such was not the case in 72, when ranchers were forced to begin supplemental feeding in late October. Then came the old law of supply and demand, and inclement weather which hampered 1972 fall feed crop production. When ranchers ran low on cattle feed, so did their suppliers. A shortage of available feed drove the prices upward, and this, in

OEP Workshop On Free Legal Aid Is Held

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Methods of providing free legal aid to victims of natural disasters was the subject of a workshop conducted here Saturday by the Office of Emergency Preparedness and the American Bar Association.

Lawyers from 17 states attended.

Harry L. Hathaway, Los Angeles, the chairman of the ABA's Young Lawyers Section, said the Kansas City workshop makes the legal aid program operational in all 50 states.

Hathaway said the lawyers will direct victims of natural disasters to the proper federal agencies and answer legal questions. He said persons who can get the legal help have incomes that normally disqualify them for other types of government relief.

Hathaway said the lawyers will be operating from one-stop centers which will also contain temporary offices of the federal agencies involved.

Young Girl Dies In Boating Mishap

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—A boating outing has claimed the life of Anne Marie Redden, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Redden of Joplin. Redden is sports editor of the Joplin Globe.

McDonald County Coroner Doug Mooney said the girl apparently became entangled beneath a three-canoe pileup on Indian Creek about one-half mile north of Noel in McDonald County Saturday.

to get crops in, keep weeds out in wet weather.

In corn: Lasso plus atrazine

During a wet spring, being able to apply your herbicide whenever the weather permits may be the key to getting your crop in on time... and harvesting on time.

With Lasso plus atrazine tank mix, you can work around rainy days applying the way you want: preemergence, preplant-incorporated... or even early post-emergence, until weeds reach the "two-leaf" stage.

Your farm chemical supplier's CONTROL/PLAN program can help you tailor application methods, timing, rates and more to the specific conditions on your own farm.

So you can count on getting the crops in and keeping the weeds out in wet weather... with a CONTROL/PLAN program... applying Lasso plus atrazine in corn.

Richardson sits in delicate position

WASHINGTON — It is a telling commentary on the human condition that the worst crimes are committed in the name of justice.

How natural, then, that the Justice Department should be the focus of solving the worst political crimes in this nation's history — the Watergate scandals.

The first truth is that Kleindienst's usefulness as a public servant came to an end even before he found himself in the embarrassing position of having to rescue himself from an assortment of cases where his friends and cronies faced government prosecution for serious crimes

One of two devastating things became obvious when Kleindienst went before that congressional group to make his asinine, ridiculous claim that "executive privilege" empowered the President to forbid any executive branch employee to tell the Congress anything, even about law violations.

If Kleindienst thought that one up on his own, it only showed how intellectually incompetent he was to be attorney general; if he gave that testimony at the behest of the White House, it only proved him such a spineless sycophant that he was not fit to be the chief law officer of this nation.

As for Kleindienst's replacement, Richardson, no one can make a rabid case against him. He is a decent man of high reputation gained in large measure as a prosecutor in Massachusetts. His background in the State Department, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and ever-so-briefly in the Defense Department makes for a substantial recommendation.

Yet, Richardson did go along with those phony administration attacks on welfare recipients when he clearly knew how politically cynical they were. Richardson did blow with the ill winds churned up by Ehrlichman, Haldeman & Co. when the administration abandoned its proposed family assistance program which would have guaranteed every family something close to a decent minimum income. Richardson did acquiesce in the venal, and in some cases just plain lawless, efforts by Nixon, Haldeman and Ehrlichman to wipe out most of the social programs of the 1960s and take this country back to the 1950s for sure and the 1920s if possible.

In short, during that romp through the cabinet, this likeable Boston Brahmin, Richardson, has given the impression he has become the President's man. The Watergate scandal is so sinister, so pervasive, that no intelligent American can feel comfortable with Richard Nixon's man presiding over the prosecution, the investigation, the FBI and much more.

Everybody around Richardson takes it for granted that he has lofty political ambitions. In short, he'd like to be President. This observer thinks that that may be the only saving factor for the public in this new appointment.

Richardson is smart. He knows that if he gets tarnished as a Nixon patsy, as the whitewash man with the Boston accent, he can kiss his political dreams goodbye. That may be enough to prevent Richardson from becoming a Nixon tool, but will it ensure zealous, pitiless prosecution on his part?

Mr. Nixon says Richardson has "absolute authority" to oversee the Watergate prosecution, including authority to name a special overseeing prosecutor, whatever that means.

But how many Americans will believe that Richardson would name a prosecutor offensive to the President at whose pleasure he serves? Only Richardson admirers and Nixon partisans.

It will be a lot better for the country and a lot safer for Richardson if he convinces the President that some person or group in no way beholden to the White House names a special prosecutor. And the sooner the better.

Richardson still must plan for the possibility that an angry, insulted, demeaned John W. Dean III, the ousted White House counsel, will try to tie the scandal directly to the President.

The way the President dumped Dean seemed to be a challenge to the young lawyer to reveal whatever he can. There is, however, a sinister background to this. The White House has been getting reports of grand jury proceedings and of things dug up by the prosecutors who are, in fact, Mr. Nixon's employees.

So Mr. Nixon already knows what is in the statements and papers Dean has delivered to the prosecutors. That would give the President quite an advantage in deciding to what extent Dean is able to implicate him.

Remember, now, that when Dean was "Mr. Clean" in the eyes of President Nixon, Dean was getting inside data from the FBI and the prosecutors. Then Dean himself proved to be the biggest suspect since Sherlock Holmes pointed a finger at the butler.

Now the President has usurped the title of "Mr. Clean, chief investigator," and you had better believe that he is poring over everything the prosecutors send to the White House.

That is a rather disquieting procedure, not much designed to instill confidence in the public.

But independent prosecutor or not, the truth is going to get out about Watergate.

The public office: no longer a trust?

Those given to drawing parallels between the current state of the Union and the fall of the Roman Empire can discover much in the upsurge in official corruption we see today.

Numerous historians of Rome have written that the decline and corruption of the empire's civil service was a major factor in the eventual collapse of Roman authority. Bribery, tax evasion, the perversion of justice, the growth of the police state and a suffocating bureaucracy—all contributed to the weakening of the empire in the West.

In this country today we seem to be undergoing a virtual epidemic of graft and malfeasance by public officials. Hardly a day goes by but another story appears to further shake the public's confidence in its elected officials.

A former governor of Illinois, a federal appeals judge, stands convicted of bribery while governor. In Chicago, Mayor Richard Daley's administration is embarrassed daily by indictments against aides and related election scandals. In New Jersey governmental corruption appears almost to be the rule rather than the exception.

And of course there is Watergate.

Here in Missouri, state and federal officials are investigating a reputed multi-million-dollar scandal in sales tax evasion, which reportedly involves employees of the Department of Revenue.

There are many more such examples, touching elected or public officials both high and low, in small towns as well as big cities. The one common victim of such corruption is the taxpaying citizen, who finds himself betrayed by the very people who were supposed to be serving him, not themselves.

What ever happened to the idea that public office is a public trust?

"AW-W-W! POOR GUYS!"

FBI's investigation obstructed by Dean

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The FBI conducted a quiet, internal investigation last February of its handling of the Watergate case. Conclusion: The White House obstructed what otherwise was a thorough investigation.

FBI officials were careful to keep any criticism of the White House out of their internal communications. This was an understandable precaution, since sensitive FBI reports had been handed over to the White House.

The assistant director in charge of investigations, Robert E. Gebhardt, summarized the findings in a short, factual memo intended for FBI eyes only.

"The handling of the Watergate investigation from the headquarters level through the field operation level," Gebhardt wrote to the acting associate director, W. Mark Felt, on Feb. 23, "was done in accordance with procedures, both administrative and investigative, that are customarily employed in any major investigative effort by the FBI.

"Among cases handled in the recent past in which similar procedures were followed are: The assassination of Martin Luther King; Capitol bombing, March 1, 1971; and major kidnapping cases such as the Barbara Jane Mackle case."

What the memo didn't mention was the White House role in the investigation. President Nixon had assigned his counsel, John Dean, to investigate whether there was any White House involvement in the Watergate scandal.

The FBI concluded, according to our sources, that Dean had withheld incriminating documents, covered up other evidence and sent FBI agents chasing false leads. At one point, Dean even suggested that Watergate culprit E. Howard Hunt get out of the country.

None of this was mentioned in writing, of course, since Dean had access to the FBI's investigative reports.

Footnote: In fairness to the FBI's embattled interim director L. Patrick Gray, there was no evidence he interfered in any way with the FBI investigation.

IMPEACHMENT TALK: The Capitol cloakrooms are buzzing with talk of impeaching President Nixon.

The discussion, however, has been mainly technical. Many House members are unsure how impeachment works. They, therefore, have bombarded the Library of Congress and the House parliamentarian for details.

The congressmen have been told that any member of the House can introduce a resolution to impeach the President. If the move is seconded, then all matters stop until the question is resolved.

Meanwhile, House leaders have been trying to squelch talk of impeachment. "The Republicans are doing a good job messing up themselves," Majority Leader Tip O'Neill told his colleagues privately. "Let's stay out of it for awhile."

But maverick liberals, including Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., and John Moss, D-Calif., are buttonholing their colleagues and urging that the House take strong action.

"At the very least, we should set up a committee to investigate the President's conduct in this matter," contends Representative Abzug. "We should be prepared either to clear the President or impeach him."

Immediately after the President's speech, liberal tempers were red hot. On Tuesday, several groups huddled on the House floor. The attitude from several liberals was for an impeachment resolution. The idea was rejected; the liberals decided the public wouldn't accept an impeachment resolution unless it came from the leadership or a respected Republican.

Impeachment talk continues to make House leaders edgy. They view the White House shakeup as a chance to improve relations with the President. They would prefer to let the Senate and the Justice Department handle the Watergate mess.

Footnote: Caught in the crossfire between the leadership and the liberals is House Judiciary chairman Pete Rodino, D-N.J., who is taking his cues from the history books. Rodino has introduced a bill that would require the President to appoint a special Watergate prosecutor and subject him to Senate confirmation. Congress approved a similar resolution during the Teapot Dome Scandal.

OUTBOARD MOTORS: The outboard motor lobby, led by the Boating Industry Association, has tried to depict their oil-spitting engines as little more harmful to America's lakes than a little spring rain. To be sure, the newer ones release little oil into the water, but millions of older engines still drip gunk and gas.

Now, a new survey done under the auspices of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's famed Fresh Water Institute indicates boaters and lakeside dwellers themselves are worried about what the motors do to lakes. Dr. Nicholas Clesceri, director of the institute, has given us an advance peek at the survey which shows that among "recreationists" worried about water quality, up to 40 per cent are most concerned about "films of gasoline and oil." Yet, ironically, the study shows only 1.5 per cent to 17 per cent of the boaters are willing to see their own horsepower cut.

Fake mail caper is recalled

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

NEA News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The 1962 Nixon-Haldeman phony mailing caper in California, which might be styled as a small prototype of the Watergate affair, has recently been publicized yet not really well spelled out.

Blossat

Haldeman's public assurances that he has been adhering to the "high standards I've always set for myself."

The elements of the newly published accounts of the California matter are needed here as foundation for further significant elaboration. Two years after Mr. Nixon lost the 1962 governorship race to then Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown, San Francisco Superior Court Judge Byron Arnold issued a stipulated judgment laying heavy personal responsibility upon both Mr. Nixon and Haldeman for a mailing designed to deceive Democrats.

In postcard form, it went to 500,000 registered California Democrats. Purporting to come from Democrats, it solicited their money and urged them to vote against Brown. There was no mention of its real source — the Nixon camp.

The California Democratic State Committee, encountered the trick belatedly, but persisted in judicial proceedings long after Mr. Nixon had lost to Brown. The process, not a trial but called a "discovery," led ultimately to Judge Arnold's finding.

Recent reports have noted that Haldeman, in a deposition, acknowledged responsibility for the mailing. But they did not show why Arnold said Mr. Nixon was involved.

In brand new conversations by telephone with Arnold and with Roger Kent, former California Democratic chairman, I sought firsthand explanation. This is it:

The damaging testimony came in a long deposition from Leone Baxter, wife of the late Clem Whitaker and partner with him in the pioneer political consulting firm bearing their names. Prodded by the Democrats' attorney, Gerald O'Gara, Ms. Baxter told of late summer-early fall meetings with Mr. Nixon and Haldeman at which the fraudulent mailing was discussed. Advised of one such session with the two men on Aug. 25, 1962, O'Gara asked her about the next. Her reply:

"I don't think I had another meeting with him (Nixon) until I went over the copy (the mailing) with him and Mr. Haldeman."

Ms. Baxter's other responses made clear this session took place in Mr. Nixon's hilltop home in Bel Air, a Los Angeles suburb. Arnold told me flatly it was her testimony which led him to rule the President personally involved in reviewing and approving the phony mailing.

Now, what Richard Nixon would endorse as a tactic in a governorship race is no proof of what he would order or condone as President. But the California case shakes the rather common view that today he would automatically veto or disapprove tricky doings as stupid and counterproductive.

Moreover, it puts Haldeman in curious light. This man whom Mr. Nixon praised as one of the "finest public servants" he has known is the confessed author of fraud in 1962.

FOOD &amp; FIBER NEWS

University of Missouri Extension Centers
Henry - Johnson - Lafayette - Pettis

Missouri ranks second only to Texas in total number of farms raising cattle in the U.S. There are nearly two million such farms in the U.S., but in the past five years there has been an 11 per cent decrease in the total number.

Meat Processing
Missouri's meat packing industry adds $682 million to the economy. Plants employ 7,200 persons, paying them $56 million in wages to add $98 million to the value of the product. A billion pounds of red meat is produced by over 300 slaughter plants.

Pasture Weeds
Ironweed in pastures can be controlled with two annual sprayings of 2 lb-A of 2, 4-D ester. Buck brush can often be controlled with one spraying. Early spraying, about May 20 to 25, is more effective than spraying 2 to 3 weeks later.

Chigger and Tick
Keeping out of areas infested with chiggers and ticks is the best way to avoid the problem, but many times this is not possible. A mosquito repellent containing diethyltoluamide, dimethyl phthalate or ethylhexanediol applied to socks, shirt and trousers will give some protection against chiggers and ticks.

To control chiggers in lawns around home, keep the grass mowed and apply a spray containing any one of the following insecticides: Diazinon, dieldrin or toxaphene. Spray until the grass is wet but it is not necessary to soak the soil surface. Keep children and pets, especially cats, off of treated lawns for two or three days, until the lawn has been sprinkled or rained upon and the grass has completely dried.

To control ticks in lawns and recreation areas, use one of the insecticides listed above for chigger control, or use carbaryl wettable powder.

Spiders
The two poisonous species found in Missouri can be identified rather easily. The brown recluse spider is generally light brown in color, rather long-legged and has a dark brown "fiddle shaped mark" just behind the head. The body part of the fiddle points toward the head while the neck of the fiddle extends back toward the body of the spider. The black widow spider is shiny black in color and has a red hour-glass marking on the underside of the abdomen.

Spiders feed on insects, so keeping your home as insect free as possible will do much toward reducing the spider problem.

Millet or Sudans
Both plants have their good and bad points for pasture or hay. Sudans are high in prussic acid and pose a poisoning threat to cattle. However, cattle do like sudans.

Gahi Pearl Millet does not form prussic acid and may be safely grazed at any stage of growth. It will grow better than sudan when weather is hot and dry. It does tiller out more than sudan when it is not grazed or clipped closer than 6 to 8 inches. It can be seeded under 20 pounds per acre in 14 to 21 inch rows.

Generally sudans or millets should not be seeded before May 15.

For more information ask for guide sheet 4660 at the Extension Center.

Alfalfa Weevil
Alfalfa weevil may have been delayed somewhat because of the cool wet weather but look out after a few days of warm weather as they will be mowing the alfalfa for you.

Spray with one of the approved materials when 30 to 35 per cent of the plant terminals or growing tips show feeding PLUS the beginning of leaf skeletonizing on a few of the fully expanded leaflets in the top third of the plants. Check several different locations in the alfalfa fields for larvae feeding to determine if and when to apply insect control chemical. Check for larvae and adult beetle feeding after the first cutting is removed as another chemical application may be necessary to allow for fast regrowth. Fertilizing after the first cutting will help second cutting yields and build root reserves, especially if an early spring fertilizer application was not possible. For more information about alfalfa weevil and its control ask for MU Guide No. 4560.

Date of Planting
Bill Murphy, State Field Crops Specialist, recently wrote these recommendations: Time of planting is most critical with corn. As fields dry, some farmers may be able to switch corn plantings to fields which, dry out first so that planting will be least delayed.

As the season progresses, farmers will want to keep in mind that corn usually makes highest yields if planted by May 10, in Central Missouri. Beyond this date there will progressively be added incentive to switch from corn to soybeans or milo — crops that can be planted later with less chance of yield reduction.

Over the period 1960-64 the yields from June 1 plantings at Columbia while generally reduced were disastrously lower in only one year, and actually were higher one year. At Spickard there was usually less reduction from June 1 plantings than at Columbia, but greater reduction from June 20 plantings.

Another question is "If I do decide to plant late, should I switch to an early maturing hybrid?" These same tests said "No." Two hybrids of four different groups were used in the trials.

Early maturing hybrids gave lower yields at all dates of planting. The 115 day maturity group seems most desirable for late planting at both locations considering yield and the advantage they would have over the more full-season groups in maturity date.

Soybeans may be planted as late as June 15 in central Missouri with only minor loss in yield likely. So while some farmers may choose to switch from corn to soybeans sooner, it would appear after June 1 in Central, there would be strong reasons to change planting plans.

Milo yields well from plantings made as late as mid-June, in Central Missouri. The sorghum midge can be disastrous on late plantings in the south one-fourth of the state.

Record Supply
The recent USDA Quarterly Report, Cattle on Feed, attracted unusual attention because of the widespread concern about meat prices. The report was based on a survey of farmers and feedlot operators in 23 states at the first of April. It confirmed that consumers are sure to get more beef than ever before. The big uncertainty concerns the amount of money that they will be willing to pay for that beef. Consumer spending for beef will largely determine the prices that farmers get for their cattle.

The report confirmed that farmers and ranchers are continuing to hold back heifers to enlarge breeding herds. This must be done if consumers are to be provided with more beef in future years.

During the last nine months of 1972, the price of choice steers at Omaha averaged $35.77 per hundredweight. Ordinarily, with prospects for supplies and consumer incomes as they are now, we would expect cattle prices to average two or three dollars higher than the year before. Now, however, we have two very unusual price-making elements in the market: the changing attitude of women toward meat prices and the government's price ceilings on meats.

We suspect that price ceilings stimulate beef sales, and thus tend to raise cattle prices. Housewives make and break the prices of beef and cattle.

An estimated 15 to 20 million Indians lived in Latin America when Spanish and Portuguese explorers visited the region.

Threat to Family Farm Is Seen

(Democrat-Capitol Service)

COLUMBIA — A national trend away from the family farm concept will show its effect in Missouri "if no defensive action is taken," according to Harold F.

Breimyer, University of Missouri agricultural economist.

"We'll need major changes in present policies if we hope to keep the family farm — the dispersed, independent farmer, open marketing system of agriculture," he said.

Breimyer recently worked with Barry L. Flinchbaugh, agricultural economist at Kansas State University, to examine the dispersed, open market agriculture system as part of an effort by the North Central Public Policy Education Committee to look into policies that could or should control U.S. agriculture.

Breimyer and Flinchbaugh emphasized that national policy should foster a dispersed farming system and that the following steps would have to be taken:

✓ The government would have to take more vigorous anti-trust and similar actions to guarantee an open, competitive market system. It might require that food processors obtain part of their supplies in open market purchase.

✓ Regulations, such as those for environment protection and zoning of farm land, would have to be designed to accommodate the average-sized farm rather than the very large farm.

✓ Farmers would need ready access to farm market and research information. This would require greater efforts by state agricultural experiment stations and all levels of the Cooperative Extension Service.

✓ Tax advantages to nonfarm investors, to large scale landowners, and to agribusiness integrators would have to be eliminated.

Breimyer and Flinchbaugh said that in the final analysis, it probably would be necessary to prohibit agribusiness corporations from engaging in agricultural production to maintain the independent, dispersed farmer system.

"In the dispersed system," they said, "large numbers of individual farmers must be able to make management decisions and not have them taken over by landowners, creditors, input suppliers or purchasers of raw commodities. For that system to survive, and consumers as well as farmers to benefit, giantism and market control must be prohibited in any form."

Prisoner Hangs Himself In Cell

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jackson County officials report an inmate of the county jail apparently hanged himself with a bed sheet Saturday morning.

The victim was identified as Donald G. Sperling, 21, who had been removed to a single cell Friday. County Executive George Lehr said it had been reported Sperling intended to try to escape Saturday and was moved to the single cell for security.

Sperling was serving an eight-year term for rape.

The jail has been a source of increasing concern because of security problems.

Time at Hand to Plant Garden

This spring has been frustrating to the early gardener. Excessive rains have prevented or reduced the planting of many early vegetables such as lettuce, onions, radishes and peas.

Hopefully, weather conditions will improve, and we can now begin to plant the summer garden. Most vegetable seeds except lima beans can safely be planted as soon as soil is dry enough to work easily. Transplants of tomatoes, peppers and eggplant may also be placed outdoors now.

Although a light frost may still be possible in some areas, most people prefer to take the chance. Part of the success of a garden comes from proper location. Ideally, the garden should be near the house so that spare time can be used in working it. It will also make harvesting fresh vegetables for meals convenient.

Trees too close to the garden shade crops and absorb needed moisture and food. To avoid this, place the garden at least 20 to 30 feet away from trees or large shrubs.

If the garden is very small, grow crops that produce the most for the space used. Some of the best types for the small garden are onions, beets, cabbage, spinach, green beans and tomatoes. Stake tomatoes and grow vine crops such as cucumbers on a trellis or fence where space is limited.

Tomatoes are one of the most popular vegetables for the home garden. Missouri-introduced hybrids such as Surprise, Supreme, Red Heart and Pink Gourmet are wilt resistant and well adapted to local conditions.

Tomatoes which have been grown in peat pots may be planted without disturbing the roots. Unlike many plants, tomatoes may be planted deeper than they were growing. If plants are too tall and leggy, put them at an angle in a trench to bury part of the stem. Roots soon form along the stem, and sturdy, short plants develop.

Plant peppers at this time. Yolo Wonder, Tokyo Belle and Bell Boy Hybrid are some good varieties. Where gardening space is limited, they form attractive, compact plants and may be placed in an ornamental planting.

Green beans are a favorite, easy-to-grow vegetable. Some varieties are ready to eat in only 50 to 60 days after planting. Either bush beans or pole beans are available. Topcrop, Contender and Tendercrop are excellent bush types. Popular pole types are Blue Lake and Kentucky Wonder.

Vine crops can be planted in hills or sown in rows. They include cucumbers, squash and muskmelons. These plants need a lot of room. Hills should be about six feet apart. Some bush types of squash may be planted as close as three feet apart. Use three to five seeds per hill, and thin to one or two plants after true leaves appear.

Sweet corn harvest can be spread by planting different varieties at the same time. Early types, such as Pride of Canada which produce small plants may be spaced closer together than later varieties that produce large plants such as Lochief or Stowell's Evergreen Hybrid.

'Property of State' Must Refuse Dates

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Attractive Van Harlee, a clerical assistant at the Florida Capitol, must say no every time she is asked for a date.

"I tell them I'm still the property of the state," said the 22-year-old brunette.

Each night, Miss Harlee must return to a State Corrections Department house where she and nine other women live as they serve the last months of prison sentences.

She and two other women in the work release program are employed by the state Education Department. Miss Harlee is responsible for keeping track of the 450 education bills in the legislature.

She says she never tries to hide or advertise her prison status. "I feel more at ease and they do, too, if I joke about it with the secretaries in the office who know about it."

Her sentence, like that of most of the other women she lives with, was a result of the drug culture.

She was selling drugs to support a heroin habit when arrested in St. Petersburg. An arrest in 1970 led to probation, and the second time she was sentenced to 15 months. She is due for release July 1.

Miss Harlee spent the first 11 months of her sentence in Lowell Correctional Institution and is thankful for the transition period.

"It would be hard just to walk out after being locked up 15 months," she said.

The women live in a rented house in a residential section of Tallahassee, do their own cooking and cleaning and "somehow make the rules," said Rini Bartlett, an administrative assistant in the corrections department who lives with the women and three counselors.

The work release women are allowed to check out in groups to go shopping. "They do their own thing ... with guidance," said Miss Bartlett.

The women can walk anywhere for lunch, but they must get permission from Miss Bartlett to get into a car.

They must get the same pay as others in a similar job. From their paychecks, they give the state $3 a day, get $20 a week to spend and bank the rest.

"I never had a checking account before," said Miss Harlee. "I couldn't save. I was just spending my money on drugs."

Howard Friedman, executive assistant to the education commissioner and Miss Harlee's supervisor, said he has had no problems with the program and many people in the office do not know Miss Harlee's status.

And Education Commissioner Floyd Christian is so sold on the program that he added a third work release employee last week to his department's staff. It is the only cabinet-level department using the program.

Klassen To Preside At Ceremony

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Postmaster General E. T. Klassen is scheduled to preside over ceremonies here Tuesday marking the first-day issuance of the new Harry S. Truman commemorative stamp.

Tuesday is the birthday anniversary of the former president and Klassen will serve as President Nixon's personal representative in placing a wreath on the grave in the courtyard of the Truman Library, where the stamp ceremonies will be held.

Truman, who died last December, would have been 89 Tuesday.

A special mobile postal unit is being set up at the library and museum, where the commemorative eight-cent stamps go on sale at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. The stamps will also be sold and canceled at the Independence post office.

The wreath-laying ceremony is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Klassen will be accompanied by Maj. Gen. Gordon J. Duquemin, commanding general at Ft. Riley, Kan. That ceremony will be closed to the public.

The first-day issuance ceremony will be held at 11 a.m. on the steps of the library, which will be open free to the public at noon.

Reed, Monroe Click

Knicks Muscle Into Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Willis Reed and Earl Monroe are happy—and Jerry West is hurting.

With Reed playing "my most important game," Monroe proving he's king of the playgrounds and West not having a healthy leg to stand on in the fourth quarter, the New York Knicks beat Los Angeles 87-83 Sunday afternoon to take a 2-1 lead over the Lakers in their National Basketball Association championship series.

"I don't know if it was my best game since the injury back in 1970, but it certainly was my most important one," said Reed, New York's solid man in the middle who scored 22 points and grabbed 10 rebounds against Los Angeles' Wilt Chamberlain.

"Sure I'm happy," he said, smiling. "This was a good one to win, because it keeps us in the driver's seat. Now there are just two games to go."

The Madison Square Garden crowd of 19,694—including the touring Russian basketball squad—and a national television audience saw a rather sloppy game in which the Knicks were outscored 15-2 in seven minutes of the second period, came back to trail just 47-44 at the half, moved in front with seven unanswered points in the third period and stayed one stride ahead of the defending champion Lakers throughout the fourth quarter.

"It was a strange game," said West, the Lakers' superstar who sat out the entire fourth quarter with pulled hamstring muscles in both his legs. "There was no pattern to it, no flow. It was like a playground game."

And a playground game means a Monroe kind of game.

"I enjoyed it today," said the Pearl, who scored 21 points and came off the bench in the middle of the second period to put an end to the Lakers' 15-2 spurt. "Our offense was just stagnating. I asserted myself at the proper time."

Monroe scored six of his points in the third quarter and nine in the fourth, including an off-balance one-hander that gave the Knicks an 85-79 lead with 1:50 to go. Reserve Keith Erickson hit two baskets to bring LA to 85-83 in the final minute, but missed a baseline shot with 22 seconds left that would have tied it. Reed grabbed the rebound, then Walt Frazier sank a pair of free throws with two seconds to go for the final margin.

"Monroe was the only guy not intimidated by Chamberlain," observed West. "He shot well when the Knicks needed the points."

"There's no getting around it. Wilt really polices the lane," conceded Monroe, who like Chamberlain learned his basketball on the playgrounds of Philadelphia.

"But sometimes you've got to challenge him—go in, even if you don't get the layup, just to keep him honest."

"But you have to know what you're doing. I was always a good driver. That's been my game, penetrating."

"We decided we had to make Chamberlain work at both ends of the court, get him as tired as possible."

Frazier Takes Aim

New York's Walt Frazier (10) has Los Angeles Lakers' Wilt Chamberlain to contend with as he sets up for a shot from the corner during Sunday's third game of the NBA championship series in New York. Frazier banged in the two-pointer. Also pictured are Willis Reed (19) of the Knicks, along with Keith Erickson (24) and Mel Counts (31) of the Lakers. New York won the game, 87-83, to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series. (UPI)

Canadiens' Flawless Play Blanks Black Hawks, 4-0

CHICAGO (AP) — "It's the kind of game we like to play," said goalie Ken Dryden after he and his awesome Montreal teammates had shutout the Chicago Black Hawks 4-0 to take a commanding 3-1 edge in their best-of-7 Stanley Cup final series.

"I should hope so," added Coach Billy Reay of the Hawks. "It doesn't happen very often, but they played a perfect game and there's not much you can do about that. Not only the Black Hawks, but they could have beaten anyone."

"They just didn't give us a chance," moaned Reay. "It's not too often you get everybody moving on a club the way they moved. I don't think they had any weaknesses at all."

Hawk General Manager Tommy Ivan, who in the past has coached his share of Stanley Cup victories, agreed and said, "Very rarely does a team play a perfect game. You just have to give them credit. Our goalkeeper was fantastic and we couldn't give him a goal."

Marc Tardif trickled in a goal at 1:08 of the first period Sunday and the game settled down to a defensive match until the second period when the Canadiens turned it on. Yvan Cournoyer hammered home his 13th goal of the playoffs, one short of the record set by teammate Frank Mahovlich in 1971, and Chuck Leffley followed with still another goal a minute and a half later.

The Canadiens now need one more triumph to capture their 18th Stanley Cup and they probably can get by with less than a perfect game at Montreal Tuesday night. The Hawks haven't won a playoff game in Montreal since 1962 and have taken it on the chin 13 times.

Dryden, the Vezina trophy winner wasn't seriously extended as he had to kick out only 19 shots to post his first Stanley Cup shutout. He said outside of two shots from the point in the second period which were deflected and another by Dennis Hull late in the game, he was never in trouble.

Odds are the Canadiens can wrap it up at home Tuesday night but Dryden warned "home ice doesn't mean that much to me."

Montreal Defense Tough

While Montreal's goalie Ken Dryden (29) fills the net, teammate Larry Robinson (19) steers away this Dick Redmond (15) shot in the second period of Sunday's game of the

Stanley Cup Playoffs in Chicago. The Canadiens could do no wrong and took a 3-1 advantage in the best-of-seven series with a 4-0 victory. (UPI)

Fifth Win in Row

David Pearson Survives Crash-Filled Stock Race

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — David Pearson, Joe Frasson and Ramo Stott were among the lucky ones in Sunday's Winston 500-mile stock car race that wound up as a $1 million junkyard.

Pearson, 38, kept his cool and won the race—his fifth straight on the Grand National circuit and his fourth at 500 miles this year. He also will bank $26,095 to go with the $61,735 he already had won.

Stott, a 37-year-old veteran from Keokuk, Iowa, wrecked his Mercury on the 10th lap around the 2.66-mile Alabama International Speedway, and watched horrified as 18 other cars barreled into each other in the worst pile up in National Association of Stock Car Automobile Racing history.

"I already had unbuckled my seat harness," Stott said later. "And had started to get out of the wrecked car. But then I saw it coming—cars spinning all over the place, spewing tires, wheels, engines and parts everywhere. I decided to stay in the car."

Stott, who finished second in a race at Talladega last August and who currently leads the rival United States Auto Club, said the engine cracked in his car. The other drivers said it was oil from Stott's car that triggered the chain-reaction crash that followed.

Buddy Baker, Cale Yarborough, Bobby Allison and Frasson, who were running in first through fourth places, rammed into the mess at more than 190 miles an hour—directly in front of many of the estimated 77,000 persons who watched.

Before it was over, 15 cars had been eliminated, some so bent and broken that they were unrecognizable.

Frasson, Wendell Scott, Earl Brooks and Slick Gardner were treated for injuries. Scott, the only black driver on the circuit, required hospitalization for a lacerated arm and a broken pelvis.

Pearson, driving the famed Wood brothers Mercury that he and A. J. Foyt used to win $175,000 last year, skittered through the debris and, with Baker, Yarborough, Allison and later, Richard Petty, out of action, had an easy time of it the rest of the way.

DiGregorio Sparks U.S. To Third Cage Victory

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Ernie "D" turned the tide and won the hearts in an 83-75 victory by the U.S. national basketball team over the Russian national team.

Six-foot-one Ernie DiGregorio of Providence personally pulled the Americans together after a slow start Saturday night and led them to their third victory in four games with the Russians on their American tour.

The aggressive whirling dervish scored 20 points and handed out eight assists, some of them of the ultra-spectacular variety.

However, as spectacular as DiGregorio was, the entire game was played under a shadow that has plagued the entire series—the roughness allowed under international rules.

In all, 86 fouls were whistled (43 against each team), and six Russians and four Americans fouled out of the game. There was also an undercurrent of general hostility that came near explosion several times.

In the worst of these, American assistant coach Druff Young punched one of the official statisticians in the head during the second half after running down the floor and apparently losing his temper when asked to sit down.

DiGregorio said the style of play is "a lot rougher" than U.S. college ball. "There's no comparison."

Harding Keg Domination Comes to End

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The College of Great Falls in Montana has at long last ended the reign of Harding College of Searcy, Ark., as champion of National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics bowling.

Great Falls, led by Bob Alexinski and Myron Olsen, turned the trick Saturday in the NAIA's 12th annual tournament, breaking Harding's three-year string.

The Montana school wound up 13-2 in the two-day event. Harding was 11-4. St. Vincent, Pa., and Southwest Baptist, Mo., were 8-7; Bryant, R.I., college, 6-9; Nebraska Omaha, 7-8; and Methodist, N.C., College and Wisconsin Parkside, each 3½-11½.

Alexinski and Olsen won the doubles championship, beating Mike Polo of Southwest Baptist and Dan Fowler of Methodist. Harding's Dave Hudson was successful in defending his individual title, downing Alexinski by 15 pins in a two-game roll-off.

The tournament's outstanding bowler honors went to Alexinski.

Secretariat Strong Favorite

Many in Derby Field Will Skip Preakness

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Secretariat, his image shining brighter than ever, now takes on the task of trying to win the Triple Crown and his opposition might not be too great—at least in numbers.

"He ran pretty good for a crippled horse," jockey Ron Turcotte said Sunday after Secretariat wiped out rumors that he had a knee problem with an overwhelming victory in the Kentucky Derby.

"You know something he might have run that in 1:56 if he was all right," Turcotte chided.

With his stature damaged by an upset loss in the Wood Memorial April 21 and rumors sweeping Churchill Downs Saturday that Secretariat had hurt himself and might even be scratched, Secretariat responded by beating Sham by 2½ lengths in a record time of 1:59 2-5 for the 1¼-mile Derby.

"There won't be many trying him in the Preakness," said trainer Lou Goldfine, adding that he was taking Sheeky Greene, who finished sixth, and My Gallant, who finished ninth, back to Chicago.

"I'm going to weigh things over," said trainer Bill Resseguet, whose Our Native finished third, 10½ lengths back of the flying winner.

One of those expected to test Secretariat in the Preakness, the second Triple Crown race at Pimlico May 19, was Sham.

Two of Sham's teeth were loosened when he bumped his head in the starting gate and they were removed after the race. However, trainer Frank "Pancho" Martin said Sham ran a fine race and there were no excuses.

Martin also will send two other colts to Pimlico—Knights Dawn, who won an allowance race on Derby program, and the lightly raced Beautiful Music.

Others being mentioned for the 13½-mile Preakness were Aljamine; Stop the Music; Impeccunious, who missed the Derby because of a heel injury, and Step Nicely, a stakes winner as a 2-year-old. None raced in the Derby.

Secretariat was scheduled to go to Baltimore today while Angle Light, his stablemate, was to be sent back to New York. Angle Light finished 10th in the Derby.

Championship Flight To Anderson-Redlin Team

Bill Anderson, the 1972 stoke play champion at Walnut Hills Country Club, and guest Steve Redlin, Whiteman Air Force Base, won the championship flight of the WHCC Member-Guest Tournament, Sunday.

The pair combined for an even-par 70 and won over the runner-up team of Norm Capps and Roy Johnson in the best-ball competition by two strokes.

Whalers Capture First WHA Title

BOSTON (AP) — Teddy Green, a veteran hard-hitting defenseman, sat with mixed emotions. He has been the route in many ways.

Green had a satisfied look, but tried to conceal any appearance of strutting Sunday after his New England Whalers defeated the Winnipeg Jets 9-6 for the first World Hockey Association championship.

"Let's say I'm very satisfied," said Green, who came back from a skull fracture and helped the Boston Bruins to the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup in 1970.

"I'm very happy, but I don't know whether this is the most satisfying thing that has ever happened to me," the Whalers' captain said. "Don't forget I was with the Bruins right here in Boston when we won the Stanley Cup three years ago."

Virtually ignored by the Bruins as the team won the

Do Little To Solve Dilemma

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — The 73rd North and South Amateur Golf Tournament, which wound up with Mike Ford beating Bill Harvey 1-up on the 38th hole Saturday, did little to ease the growing dilemma of the U.S. Golf Association officials who will pick the ten-man Walker Cup team to meet the British Aug. 24-25 at Brookline, Mass.

On several occasions, golfers have used the North and South championship as a stepping stone to nomination to the cup team.

But consider the finalists this year. Ford, a 23-year-old Rollins College senior from Yonkers, N.Y., never before had won anything more than a club title in five years of competitive golf.

Harvey, a 42-year-old Jamestown, N.C., nomad of the fairways, has won over 200 tournaments in two decades and is known up and down the eastern seaboard. But he has not won a blue ribbon event.

When the tournament began there were such young cup hopefuls as Bill Mallon of Duke University and Danny Edwards of Oklahoma State, the defending champion. Both are thirsting for a cup team invitation. Mallon lost in the third round, Edwards in the fourth.

Crowning Blow

Milwaukee Brewers' catcher Darrell Porter is all smiles as he rounds third and is greeted by third-base coach Joe Nosske (24) after hitting a home run in the eighth inning to give the Brewers what proved to be the winning run in a 3-2 victory over the Kansas City Royals Sunday, in Milwaukee. (UPI)

Drago Sharp in Defeat; Dodgers Blank Cardinals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas City pitcher Dick Drago held the Milwaukee Brewers to only four hits Sunday—but two of those were home runs and that was good enough for a 3-2 victory over the Royals.

In Los Angeles, the Dodgers shut out St. Louis 3-0.

Darrell Porter socked a round-tripper in the eighth inning Sunday to seal the victory for Milwaukee. Earlier in the game Johnny Briggs clubbed a homer in the fifth to tie the score at 2-2.

Porter, one of five rookies in Milwaukee's starting line-up, had only one hit in his previous 13 times at bat when he

The S-C freshmen won seven of the 13 events in their division, but didn't have enough depth and wound up losing, 57-52.

In the eight-grade competition, the host Jays ran away with a 68-32 team victory.

Stanley Cup for the second time in three years in 1972. Green jumped to the Whalers and the new WHA last summer.

Green, who tactfully dodges criticizing the Bruins, played a major role on defense as the Whalers won the World Cup. However, he evaded with equal tact the challenge of New England President Howard Baldwin for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of world hockey supremacy.

"Don't anyone ask me to play another game," Green said. "I'm tired. After more than 100 games, I don't have it. I need a rest. I guess, though, if I had to, I could go one more."

Just a year ago, Green ducked writers after the Bruins won the Stanley Cup by defeating the New York Rangers in seven games. Now, he still refuses to knock the Bruins despite what many consider shabby treatment.

"Look, we have a great team, maybe not the best that ever played, but not the worst," he said. "We're the champs in our league. We have a lot of good hockey players in this league, and everybody should recognize it. I was in the NHL with the Bruins when the league had a lot of good players, when there were only six teams. Then came expansion and then more expansion."

With an explosive, but opportunist, attack, the Whalers jumped to a 5-2 first period lead in the fifth game Sunday, although they were out-shot 17-11 by the Jets the first 20 minutes.

Larry Pleau, a Greater Boston native who played with the Montreal Canadiens before jumping to the WHA and the Whalers, scored three goals and Tommy Webster, a former Bruins, tallied twice.

Crampton Bolts Into Lead In Money Race at Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — "I told you earlier this year," Bruce Crampton said. "The best is yet to come."

"The good things are just getting started."

Crampton had just polished off a one-stroke victory—he led by three to five most of the final round and it got close only at the end—in the Houston Open Golf tournament Sunday, his third pro triumph of the year.

"Nothing has changed from what I said at Orlando, Fla. The best is yet to come for Bruce Crampton," he said.

With three victories—only Jack Nicklaus can match that total—and a season's leading $153,678 in earnings to his credit, the statement could only stand as a warning to the rest of the pro tourists that the cur-

Split Doesn't Work Out

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — If they didn't already know, the Kansas Jayhawks found out Saturday you can't take a star receiver away from a star quarterback and have much of a football offense.

Coach Don Fambrough divided his squad for the Jayhawks' annual May game, ending spring drills. He put crack receiver Bruce Adams with the Whites and quarterback Dave Jaynes with the Blues.

The Whites won 31-14, and the Jaynes-led Blues didn't pick up any points until the score was 34-0.

"Any time you split up your offense," said Fambrough, "you're not going to get much of a game. We took Bruce Adams away from David, and that's taking away a lot."

Adams caught four passes for 91 yards, including one 49-yarder for a touchdown. He also returned a punt 63 yards to the four to set up another touchdown, one of three made by Randy Ross, a running back.

Jaynes made one Blues touchdown on a three-yard run and Bill Riggins the other on a four-yard punt.

'Nothing Wrong,' Says Martin

Rangers Pound Lolich, Tigers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON, Associated Press Sports Writer
What's wrong with Mickey Lolich?

Nothing, says Billy Martin.

Maybe, says Whitey Herzog.

The left-handed ace of the Detroit Tigers, who pitched 703 innings and won 47 games over the past two seasons, is having his troubles in 1973. Following Sunday's 7-2 loss to the Texas Rangers, in which he was creamed for nine hits—he also walked six—and all seven runs in 5 2-3 innings, Lolich shows a 1-4 record and a 4.15 earned run average.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Chicago White Sox mauled the New York Yankees 11-2. Oakland thumped Cleveland twice 12-0 and 7-3. Baltimore blanked California 5-0. Milwaukee edged Kansas City 3-2 and Minnesota hammered Boston 10-3.

In the National League, San Francisco took two from Chicago 11-9 in 12 innings and 4-3. Houston trounced New York 14-8. Cincinnati trimmed Montreal 6-1. San Diego checked Pittsburgh 8-0. Los Angeles downed St. Louis 3-0 and Atlanta shaded Philadelphia 3-1.

The Rangers hopped on Lolich for three runs in the opening inning on the first of Dave Nelson's four hits, a passed ball. Toby Harrah's single and Alex Johnson's home run. In the sixth, a single by Elliott Maddox and a pair of walks preceded Harrah's three-run triple. Harrah then scored on a single by Johnson.

"This was the first game he hasn't been sharp even when he was losing," said Manager Martin. "The other times he pitched pretty well. I guess he's entitled to a bad one."

The Rangers beat Lolich 2-1 two weeks ago and Manager Herzog said Lolich "threw a lot better against us in Arlington. When he had to reach back and get 'em, he could do it."

The White Sox ran their winning streak to nine games—five of them against the Yankees—as Wilbur Wood became the majors' first seven-game winner and Bill Melton drove in four runs. Wood had a 28-inning scoreless skein snapped in the first inning on Matty Alou's triple and Bobby Murcer's single, but the Sox forged ahead with three in their half, including a two-run single by Melton.

The A's pounded out 18 hits in their opener against Cleveland, including a home run by Joe Rudi, in support of Ken Holtzman's five-hit pitching.

Vida Blue, who had been sidelined more than two weeks with a strained knee ligament, scattered six hits in the nightcap and the A's got homers from Deron Johnson, Gene Tenace and Sal Bando.

Jim Palmer halted Baltimore's five-game losing streak by shacking California on five hits and outpitching Nolan Ryan, who was victimized by wildness and errors.

Minnesota got home runs from Bob Darwin, Larry Hise and Joe Lis and routed Boston as Bill Hands scattered 10 hits.

Sooners Move Into Top Spot

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners jumped over Oklahoma State into first place in the Big Eight Conference baseball standings over the weekend but will have to wait another week to settle their championship squabble with the Cowboys.

Neither Oklahoma, 14-4, nor Oklahoma State, 13-4, takes the field all week long. Colorado, 11-7, plays Iowa State in a three-game set Friday and Saturday and can nail down third place.

The Sooners, who had trailed Oklahoma State by 1½ games going into last weekend's action, grabbed the top spot Saturday by beating Nebraska 5-4 while the Cowboys were losing to Missouri by the same score. They swept their three-game series from the Huskers, and the Cowboys could conquer the Tigers only once.

Elsewhere Saturday, Colorado clipped Kansas 4-0 to complete a three-game sweep, and Kansas State lost 5-4 and won 8-4 in a nonconference double-header with Tulsa. The Iowa State-Creighton twin bill was rained out.

Oklahoma had to score three times in the last of the ninth to whip the Huskers. Two straight walks, one with the bases loaded, produced the winning run. During the uprising, the Sooners got singles from Keith Drumright and Bill Severns and a double from Mike Umfleet.

The Cowboys blew a 4-1 lead in the eighth inning when the Tigers erupted for four runs. Charles Young started the outburst with a home run, and Roger Dickhans' sacrifice fly drove the deciding run across.

Colorado was helped in its triumph over Kansas by catcher John Stearns' two hits and one run batted in. The Buffs, who play eight games this week, will put Stearns on display for scouts from 18 major league clubs.

Kansas State's first-game rally in the sixth inning netted only two runs, leaving the Wildcats a run short. A four-run uprising in the sixth inning of the second game proved the difference in the Wildcats' comeback, highlighted by a home run by Scott Scholbe.

This week's schedule:
Today—Air Force at Colorado and Wyoming at Colorado.

Wednesday — Denver University at Colorado, 2.

Thursday — Metro State of Denver at Colorado.

Friday — Iowa State at Colorado, 2.

Saturday — Iowa State at Colorado; Kansas at Kansas State, 2; Friends at Nebraska, 2.

Sunday—Kansas at Kansas State.

Title to Pasarell

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico scored his first tournament victory in five months Sunday, defeating Tony Roche of Australia 6-1, 3-6, 6-3 in the finals of the $15,000 Glenwood Manor Invitational Tennis Tournament.

The victory, worth $3,500, was Pasarell's first since winning the Clean Air Classic in New York.

Roche, playing with a left elbow that has seen two operations, bounced back to take the second game after yielding the first with little argument.

In doubles finals, Haroon Rahim of Los Angeles and Jeff Borowiak of San Francisco, former teammates at UCLA, defeated Pasarell and Frank Froehling of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., 6-3, 7-5.

Jim: "H. W. Kelsey has written a new book entitled, 'More Killing Defense.' It is definitely for advanced players but does include a lot of most interesting hands."

Oswald: "Here is the first hand in his book. The chapter is entitled 'Bread and Butter Discards.' Look at the North and East hands only and see if you can find the right play. If you can't, don't be discouraged. It is a real tough one."

Jim: "West opens the ace of hearts and continues. You win the second trick and South ruffs the third heart."

He plays out ace-king and another spade. You discard a diamond on the second spade. What do you discard on the third one?"

Oswald: "It is easy to see that you can't spare your high heart. You can let the club go and hope your partner holds the jack, but the right discard is another diamond. Declarer surely holds seven spades. This means he will be able to make his tenth trick by a diamond finesse unless he is void of diamonds. So you throw a diamond and find out later on that you have saved."

POWs Got Bible From The Enemy

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Air Force Capt. William G. Byrns took a simple, black Bible to church with him in suburban Belton, Mo., Sunday.

Byrns and 19 other American prisoners of war obtained the Bible from their North Vietnamese captors, then all signed a page inside upon their release March 28.

"After months of bugging them and months of prayer we finally got this," Byrns told the congregation at the First Baptist Church. "I don't know where they got it but it came from God."

Byrns, 29, his wife, Joanna, and their son, Scotty, 3, all of Warrenton, Mo., came to Belton to visit the church where he worshipped when he was a student at Belton High School.

The husband and wife spoke to morning and evening services, telling how their religious faith helped carry them through Byrns' 10 months as a prisoner of war.

After the services, many worshippers came forward to shake hands and ask Byrns to sign their Bibles. Six women turned in prisoner-of-war bracelets they had worn for him.

"There are problems, mistakes and corruption in our country," he said, "and we have to continue to improve. But go and live in a Communist country, not as a guest, but as a member. You will experience and understand then that there is no comparison."

"I once took my freedoms for granted. No way, ever again."

Farm Roundup

Larger Soviet Grain Crop Is Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department Monday said the Soviet Union, which bought more than $1 billion worth of U.S. grain last year, appears to be headed for larger crop production on its own in 1973.

But the Soviets, officials added, are expected to continue buying relatively large amounts of grain from foreign suppliers.

Last year, when drought and other severe weather conditions reduced its harvest, the Soviet Union turned to the United States for more than 19 million tons of grain and soybeans, including some 440 million bushels about 12 million tons of wheat.

"Although the USSR at present is still expected to need sizable purchases of grain from the world market for . . . 1973-74, there appears in recent weeks to have been an improvement in Soviet grain prospects for 1973," the Foreign Agricultural Service said.

Last month the agency said it appeared the Soviets might be in the market this year for as much as 14 million tons of grain from all foreign sources, about half the amount Moscow purchased on the world market in 1972.

Today's report in the weekly magazine "Foreign Agriculture" repeated the earlier analysis despite the more recent upturn in Russian crop prospects.

"It is still early to be making firm forecasts of the 1973 crop, especially since the spring grain crop is not yet all planted," the report said.

The Soviet government, the report said, has set a grain production goal this year of 197.4 million tons, which officials here termed "ambitious" since that would be 18 per cent more than the 1972 Soviet harvest of 168 million tons and six per cent above the record of 186.8 million set in 1970.

"The Soviets do, however, appear to have gotten some breaks in the weather in recent months," the report said. "A milder winter than normal seems to have allowed the winter grain crop to escape severe winterkill despite a poor snow cover over much of the important grain-growing area in the European USSR."

Even with the weather advantage, however, the Soviet Union faces other hurdles in boosting grain output significantly, the report said.

"First of all, the proportion of spring grains to total grains will be larger than in 1972, and spring grains are generally lower yielding per acre than winter grains," the report said. Also, the report said, the use of more acres may mean that the Soviets may be using more of the poorer land. If so, that could mean a reduction in yields.

Lastly, the report said, the supply of seeds for planting may be below average in quality because of the poor harvest last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm exports soared to a record one-month total in March of $1.4 billion, the Agriculture Department announced Monday.

That raised the first quarter total to an all-time high of $3.72 billion and put the nine-month mark for the current fiscal year began last July 1 at $18.9 billion, the department said.

The estimate for the entire fiscal year ending June 30 is $11.1 billion, which would be an increase of $3 billion from 1971-72.

House Is Pursuing 'Impossible' Dream

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even Congress has its "impossible" dreams and the House is pursuing one now—an effort to modernize its committee jurisdictions to reflect present-day concerns.

The effort was begun last week under a select 10-member committee headed by Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., who has long served in and studied the House, and knows what he's up against.

"This is an 'impossible' task, with 'impossible' in quotes," he told the House last January when it set up the committee and gave it $1.5 million for the two-year job.

What Bolling meant was that, like other congressional reforms that seemed impossible at first but were finally achieved, this one has everything against it right now but still might come off.

The committee system is the vital structure of Congress. All legislation proceeds through committees to the House floor, and each committee's jurisdiction is its sole purpose for existing.

For this reason, any attempt to change or realign jurisdictions goes to the fundamental organization of the House, the power of every member—especially the committee chairman—and the concern of every vested interest in the nation.

One thing the Bolling committee has going for it is a wide acceptance by House members of the fact that something has to be done to make Congress a more effective institution.

It has been 25 years since Congress looked at its committee structure and during that time there have been vast shifts in public policies and national interests. Attempts to deal with them through existing committees involve strenuous contortions.

The environment, energy, urban problems, health, population growth—all matters of consuming present-day interest—have to be dealt with piecemeal by many committees.

In the area of transportation, for example, air travel is a matter for the Commerce Committee; highways are under the Public Works Committee, and mass transit is the concern of the Banking and Currency Committee.

"There is too much obsolescence, too much structural decay, too many cross-jurisdictions and overlaps, too much erosion by time in our committees," said Rep. John C. Culver, D-Iowa, in a letter to his House colleagues last December that helped get the current study under way.

Culver is one of five Democrats on the Bolling committee. The others, in addition to Bolling, are Reps. Robert G. Stephens, Ga.; Lloyd Meeds, Wash., and Paul S. Sarbanes, Md. The Republican members are Dave Martin, Neb.; Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, N.J.;

Charles E. Wiggins, Calif.; William A. Steiger, Wis., and Bill Young, Fla.

Also favoring the committee's effort is the solid support of the House leadership, both Republican and Democratic. Speaker Carl Albert, breaking a century-old tradition against a speaker testifying before a House committee, was the first witness when the hearings opened, and Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford was the second.

Human Guinea Pig's Work Is Profitable

SEATTLE (AP) — David Cargo, 22, is a University of Washington senior in mathematics. He works as a computer operator. And he's one of the most popular human guinea pigs around.

In the past two years, he has popped pills, smoked marijuana, swallowed lengths of rubber tubing and been poked, pinched, prodded and examined—all for about $500.

"It was fairly easy money. It helped pay the rent," he said.

Another reason is curiosity, he said. And as a fringe benefit, "for most of the past couple of years, I've had one doctor or another looking over my health very, very carefully."

His first experiment paid $5 and was required for credit in a beginning psychology class. He had to maneuver a ball through a tilting maze, estimating before each attempt how far he thought he could get the ball to go.

His next job was drinking dissolved sugar at 30-minute intervals over a two-hour period while researchers took blood samples to see how fast the sugar was being absorbed by his body. He got $30 for that.

But what really sold him on selling himself as a guinea pig was when he was paid $20 for smoking a single marijuana cigarette.

"They did have people in the study who had been stoned before," Cargo said. "They wanted to test whether having one person who had been stoned before affected the people smoking the dope."

Another project paid $111 for Cargo to wear "nylon-like underwear, just like the Apollo astronauts used" to control his skin temperature while he was inside a device that forced his blood into his legs.

The purpose was to find out if "you should cover a shock victim and keep him warm," he said.

He now is taking four colchicine pills daily in a test to see if the compound, long used in treating gout, is effective as a male contraceptive.

Then there was the time he swallowed some quarter-inch rubber tubing. Scientists moved it up and down in his throat to measure the strength of the sphincter muscles in his esophagus.

He said the only offer he has refused was $100 to remove three grams of muscle tissue near the shoulder. It would have been painful and required his arm to be in a sling for a week, he said.

"Maybe I would have done it for $200. But $100? Never!"

Weekend Publication Of Papers Is Halted

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 49 members of Local 4 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers were returning to work Monday following a weekend strike against the Pulitzer Publishing Co., which stopped the publication of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Saturday and Sunday.

Members of the IBEW walked off the job Saturday morning at Pulitzer's broadcasting stations, KSD-TV and KSD radio and pickets were established at the broadcasting studios and at the Pulitzer Bldg., where the Post-Dispatch is printed.

The settlement of the strike was announced in the chambers of U.S. District Judge William H. Webster, who said he was prepared to issue a restraining order against the union's pickets at the newspaper building.

The broadcasting stations had remained on the air, with supervisory personnel, but teamsters observed the pickets at the newspaper building and the Post's weekend editions were not delivered.

Judge Webster said he would issue the restraining order if there was any further disruption by the union.

An attorney for the National Labor Relations Board said the board had been requested by the Pulitzer company and the Globe-Democrat Publishing Co. to investigate the pickets at the newspaper building. Both firms said the union had committed an unfair labor practice by conducting a secondary boycott.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, not owned by Pulitzer, is printed under contract at the Post-Dispatch building.

The engineers, who operate cameras and other broadcast equipment, were to receive a $57 weekly raise over the three-year life of the new contract and additional money for hospitalization and pension funds. The engineers had been paid $310 per week under the old contract, which expired in mid-November.

Convicted Murderer Is Refused Test

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Missouri Board of Healing Arts Sunday refused to allow convicted murderer R. Bernard Finch to take a license examination to practice medicine in the state.

The board said it did so despite "compelling evidence" of Finch's rehabilitation.

Residents of the southwest Missouri community of El Dorado Springs, where he has worked as an x-ray technician since October of 1971, say they want the doctor there and "El Dorado Springs won't take this lying down."

Finch, 55, served 12 years in a California prison for the murder of his wife before his release in the fall of 1971. He was convicted of the murder along with his receptionist, Carole Tregoff. Both were sentenced to life imprisonment for the 1959 murder.

Delton Houtchens, Finch's attorney and former chairman of the Missouri State Democratic Committee, said the board's decision would be appealed. He said he is prepared to take the case to either the Cole or Cedar County Circuit Court if John W. Carter, state administrative hearing commissioner, does not reverse the board's decision.

"This is important if you believe in the idea of rehabilitating men and getting them back into society," Houtchens said. "This could go all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court if it has to."

"El Dorado Springs won't take this lying down," Harold Fugate, president of the town's chamber of commerce said. "We went to all the trouble to bring Bernard here and we want to keep him as our doctor."

He said the town now has two full-time osteopathic doctors and one M.D., who is hampered by heart trouble.

A longtime friend of Finch, The Rev. Burton Pierce of Springfield, Mo., said the appeal will develop into a "landmark" case on the rights of rehabilitated criminals in society.

Mr. Pierce charged John Hailey, the board's executive secretary, had prejudged Finch's case.

Hailey said he had simply stated the board had never issued a license to a convicted felon in his 27 years with it. He said he recognized Finch's rehabilitation efforts.

"But this is a special profession," Hailey added. "He may be rehabilitated enough to pass a barber's exam or something else."

Dr. Jerome Williams, St. Louis, board president, said the board was sympathetic to rehabilitation.

"However, it does not believe it suitable or appropriate... to paradoxically permit an individual who has brutally murdered his wife to re-enter the practice of medicine—a profession which particularly and uniquely is dedicated to the preservation of human life."

People in the News

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Six months ago, Mark Spitz liked a picture of model Susan Weiner so much that he called her to ask for a date. Now she's Mrs. Mark Spitz.

Spitz, the Olympic swimmer who won a record seven gold medals in the 1972 summer games at Munich, and Miss Weiner exchanged marriage vows on Sunday at a plush Beverly Hills hotel.

Miss Weiner, daughter of a Los Angeles industrialist, was a part-time model when Spitz saw her picture last year in a portfolio being carried by a friend.

The bride wore a white-molded empire bodice and an A-line silhouette for the Reform Jewish ceremony conducted before 350 friends and relatives. Her husband, who now is pursuing a business career in Los Angeles, wore a gray dress jacket, white shirt, gray and black tie and gray pants with black stripes.

Spitz said he wasn't as nervous at the ceremonies as he has been at other places. "This time I knew what the result would be," he said.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace may walk again, his Chinese acupuncturist says.

The Alabama governor has been undergoing acupuncture treatments from Dr. Ling Sun Chu as part of his therapy program since being paralyzed from the waist down in an assassination attempt last summer.

Dr. Chu said in an interview published on Sunday that Wallace has become more mentally alert since the acupuncture treatments began several months ago. He also said color

Cushman Go-ahead Reported

NEW YORK (AP) — Sources say that while Marine Corps Commandant Robert E. Cushman Jr. was serving as deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency he gave the go-ahead for CIA assistance in the burglary of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's former psychiatrist, the New York Times said Monday.

Ellsberg is a defendant in the Pentagon papers trial. The Times, quoting sources close to the Watergate case, said Gen. Cushman authorized the use of CIA material and research for the burglary at the request of former Presidential assistant John D. Ehrlichman.

Cushman, who left the CIA in 1971, reportedly accepted full responsibility for the decision to let the CIA assist in preparations for the break-in, the Times said.

In grand jury testimony last Wednesday, E. Howard Hunt Jr. told of using disguises, fake identification papers and a "safehouse" in Washington provided by the CIA in advance of the burglary.

Watergate conspirators G. Gordon Liddy and Hunt were identified recently in a government memorandum as the men who broke into the office of Ellsberg's former psychiatrist after publication of the Pentagon Papers.

and warmth have returned to Wallace's legs.

Asked if the 53-year-old governor might ever walk again, Dr. Chu said, "Maybe."

WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lady Pat Nixon rolls out the welcome mat for Senate wives Monday. She is giving them a luncheon at the White House.

Mrs. Nixon came back to the capital Sunday night from a weekend in Key Biscayne, Fla., to prepare for Monday's party.

Later this spring, the Senate wives are to return the favor with a luncheon in honor of the First Lady on Capitol Hill. Both events have become traditional affairs.

Mrs. Nixon was accompanied in her return by daughter Julie and son-in-law David Eisenhower. President Nixon remained in Key Biscayne through the weekend.

LENINGRAD (AP) — John V. Lindsay and Joseph Alioto traveled halfway around the world and ended up touring the Soviet city the same day. They came and went separately.

Mayors Lindsay of New York and Alioto of San Francisco toured Leningrad on Sunday in their current Soviet visits as guests of Vladimir Promyslov, the mayor of Moscow.

Tass news agency said the mayors, accompanied by their wives and a few aides, made their tours separately. Lindsay arrived in the Soviet Union last Thursday, one day ahead of Alioto.

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines spoke of heroism by soldiers from his nation and from America in honoring the 31st anniversary of the fall of Corregidor to the Japanese.

The president reminded his countrymen in ceremonies Sunday on Corregidor—a tadpole-shaped island in the mouth of Manila Bay—that Filipinos and Americans had fought side by side in World War II.

Corregidor was one of several Pacific islands that fell to the Japanese during the early stages of the war.

In Sunday's ceremonies, Marcos also decorated 27 members of his armed forces for outstanding acts of heroism in the current Philippine campaign against insurgency. Some of the awards were given posthumously.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Now that Blaze Starr is back in the nightclub business, she's decided to tell her life story as one of the nation's most noted strippers.

Miss Starr recently reopened her Baltimore nightclub after a chicken restaurant failed. She has hired Huey Perry, a former West Virginia anti-poverty worker, to write her biography. The title? "This is My Life," says Miss Starr. She said she hopes it will be a best seller and would like Ann-Margaret to portray her if it were ever made into a movie.

Poster Winners

These four scouts won prizes in a poster contest promoting a girl scout ice cream social held Saturday evening at Camp Sacajawea for the scouts of District Nine, Heart of Missouri Girl Scout Council. All proceeds from the social will go toward equipment to further develop the girl scout camp.

Attorney Says Former Senator 'Suspicious of Poisonings'

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—The late former U.S. Sen. Edward V. Long, whose death is being investigated, was a man who "had been suspicious of poisonings in the past," Marion F. Wasinger, the Long family attorney said Sunday night.

The senator, who died at the age of 64 at his Brookhill farm near here Nov. 6, 1972, had once "suspected that his daughter had been poisoned" through a drink taken about a year before he died, Wasinger said in an Associated Press interview.

Miss Helen Dunlop, Long's long-time companion and secretary, has told authorities that minutes before he died Long told her he thought he had been poisoned by eating candy from a box sent him as a gift. Medical investigators were continuing tests on the contents of Long's stomach to determine if he had been poisoned.

Wasinger said that Long mentioned the possibility that his daughter, Mrs. Frank Miller, had been poisoned by drinking an alcoholic beverage during a trip to Las Vegas, Nev. It was later determined that Mrs. Miller was suffering from an illness "somewhat the opposite of diabetes," said Wasinger, who is representing Mrs. Florence Long in a $3.25 million alienation of affections suit against Miss Dunlop and another suit contesting Long's will.

"Some physicians have told me that many people, who suddenly become ill, think the illness was caused by something they ate," Wasinger added.

"The family believes that Long's death was caused by a tumor attached to the base of the pituitary gland," Wasinger said in a telephone interview from his Hannibal home.

Wasinger, who was present at the autopsy on the late senator's body last Thursday, said he heard one of the physicians say that the tumor was a "cystic tumor" and that "even a cough could have killed him."

Tissues removed during the autopsy and contents of Long's stomach were under investigation by Dr. George Gantner, St. Louis County medical examiner. The results were expected later this week.

Wasinger said he hoped the autopsy would produce "conclusive" results.

Jerome W. Seigfried of Mexico, Mo., who is the attorney for Miss Dunlop, was to meet with her today to discuss filing a libel and slander suit against the senator's family "especially Frank Miller," Long's son-in-law.

"Some statements made have been very detrimental to her (Miss Dunlop's) character and have not been in accord with the facts as they are," Seigfried said Saturday night.

Wasinger said he knew of no statements made by Miller or the other family members which could be construed as being libelous.

Seigfried pointed out that Miss Dunlop has passed a lie detector test administered by the Missouri State Highway Patrol after she disclosed the poisoning statements in March.

Thomas I. Osborne, Audrain County prosecutor who is acting as special Pike County prosecutor in the Long case, notified Miss Dunlop of the results of the lie detector test.

"The test indicated her answers were truthful and I think that lends a great deal to the possibility that Long was poisoned," Seigfried said.

Pike County Coroner J. O. Mudd, who issued Long's death certificate, said the death had "all the appearances of a stroke."

Long's will left his wife and daughter $10 each and the remainder of the estate, valued at about $2 million, to his 5-year-old granddaughter, Ann Miller. Miss Dunlop, Long's secretary for 26 years, was named executrix.

Long served in the Senate from 1960 to 1968 when he was defeated by Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton. He had been a Missouri state senator for 11 years and served one term as lieutenant governor.

Louis Harris Survey

Cambodian Bombing Is Opposed

By LOUIS HARRIS

The American people were deeply worried in mid-April that "Cambodia will fall to the Communists," and yet also disapproved by 49-33 per cent of the use of B-52 bombers in the fighting that has continued in that country.

When asked why they opposed the use of U.S. bombers in Cambodia, the public volunteered three principal types of objections: (1) "we have no business there and should get out," (2) "the bombing is inhuman and should be stopped," and (3) "it could lead to our becoming involved in another Vietnam."

Most people in the country today clearly doubt that either the North Vietnamese or South Vietnamese intend to live up to the peace accords reached in Paris. A large 73 per cent felt in mid-April it was at least "somewhat likely" that Cambodia would fall to the Communists. Even so, there was little disposition to wish another deep U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia, since Americans now agree, by 70-21 per cent, that our involvement in Vietnam was a "mistake."

Here are key results from a nationwide survey conducted between April 18 and 23 among 1,537 households:

✓ A 56 per cent majority believed that "war will break out again between North and South Vietnam."

✓ By 58-27 per cent, the public also felt that "the government of South Vietnam will violate the terms of the Vietnam peace agreement."

✓ By a much higher 82-7 per cent, a lopsided majority also thought the "government of North Vietnam will violate" the peace accord.

✓ A majority of 73 per cent of the public felt that it is at least "somewhat likely" that "Cambodia will fall to the Communists."

✓ A majority of 69 per cent also thought it is "somewhat likely" that "Laos will fall to the Communists."

Despite these dark forebodings that the Vietnam peace will not work out, President Nixon received high marks for his efforts to reach agreement with North Vietnam. The relief at having American fighting men and prisoners brought home clearly has been immense. However, the closing period of the Vietnam experience has not been one of unmitigated joy.

The main reasons why people "felt relieved" but did not feel like celebrating the return of the prisoners-of-war could be found in three reactions volunteered by sizable numbers. A systems engineer in Lynbrook, N.Y., put it this way, "At least we can feel that no more American boys will be killed. That's a great relief." A student in Durham, N.C., summed up another characteristic response, "It should have ended long ago and we never should have been there. But at last, it is over." A housewife in York, Pa., said, "It was good to see those men come off the planes, but it broke your heart to think of all that the families and wives of the POWs had gone through."

Underlying the sense of relief but not exultation is the view of 70-21 per cent in the country that "it was a mistake for the United States to have become involved in the Vietnam war." This conviction in turn has an impact on the public attitude toward the use of B-52 bombers in the continuing fighting in Cambodia.

The lingering worry about U.S. bombings in Cambodia centers on the concern that we can become involved in another Vietnam, just at a time when people finally believed American involvement in the fighting in Southeast Asia had ended. The desire to stay out of any future conflicts runs deep, despite the prevailing public view that the Vietnam peace agreement likely will come unstuck.

The ultimate concern among 61 per cent of the public is the likelihood that "American planes will have to be used to bomb North Vietnam." And that, to most of the public, would bring the war back to a stage this country has no desire to experience again.
